JURY PROBES SWINDLE RING

Vote Down Park and Street Bonds

O. K. GIVEN $255,000 ISSUES

Fire and Water Proposals Among Six Given Approval at Polls

27 PER CENT VOTE
MARKS ELECTION

Count of 1757 to 602 Is Shown for Plan to Install Alarm System

Santa Ana forward!
With six of the nine bonding propositions voted on yesterday being approved by more than two-thirds of the voters, who cast ballots, Santa Anas today were looking forward to the city continuing its rapid stride in business and residential district expansion and in population increase.

The propositions carrying were the most important of the issues, and represented a total of $255,000.
The park bonds and the street equipment bonds failed.

Voters of the city did not reverse their record as regarded the percentage of the registration casting ballots at a bond election.
Only 27 per cent of the registered voters of the city expressed themselves at the polls, and some surprise was expressed today that so many of the propositions carried with the vote as light as it was.

The registration was 9080. The number of votes cast was 2464, making 1693 favorable votes necessary to carry any one of the issues.

The big vote was on the capital issue of $150,000, to provide funds for replacing water mains and extending water service in rapidly growing sections of the city. Nineteen hundred and sixteen voters said that they stood for expansion of the system, while 414 took the opposition.

Vote Fire Alarm Bonds.
Necessity for rebuilding the electric fire alarm system was recognized by 1757 of the men and women who voted, and they approved an issue of $25,000 for this work. There were just 602 of the ballot casters who voted to continue the system in its present dilapidated condition.

That better fire protection should be given the valuable properties in the industrial and packing house district in the east part of the city was admitted by 1785 voters, who authorized the city council to proceed with the issue of $12,500 in bonds for the establishment of a fire engine house there. The issue received the second highest favorable vote, being exceeded only by the water department bonds. There were 565 men and women in the list of voters who did not deem additional protection necessary.

Approval was also given the issue of $12,500 for a fire engine house in the west section of the city. The favorable vote was 1656, as against 623 unfavorable.

Fifth Street to be Paved.
The deplorable condition of West Fifth street shall not continue longer than is necessary to complete the details for repaving the thoroughfare. Seventeen hundred and thirty-three voters said they desired that this street be rebuilt and that they were willing that the property of the city should be taxed in the amount of $30,000, plus interest for a series of years, to help the property owners on the street pay for the improvement so necessary on the principal thoroughfare into Santa Ana from the west. The opposition vote was 577.

After voting for the installation of the two new fire halls, the voters figured that the fire halls would be useless without equipment and 1780 of them gave their support to an issue of $25,000 for the purchase of new fire apparatus the number who thus voted approximated those who voted for the fire halls. There were 532 opposing voters.

Street Bonds Lack 23 Votes.
The proposed issue of $15,000 for equipment for the street department was short 23 votes of the necessary 1643 to class it among the successful issues. The vote was 1615 for and 676 against.

The two propositions of $15,000 for equipment for the street department and $15,000 for equipment for the fire department failed by 23 votes.

Cold Wave Threatens To Halt Easter Sunday Fashion Shows

WASHINGTON, March 30.—A cold wave with snow in some sections will be the weather man's setting for the Easter fashion parades in the east, the weather bureau forecast today.

Snows are probably Sunday in Maryland, Virginia, Delaware, West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and eastern New York. Frosts were predicted for the southern states of Georgia, North and South Carolina.

In other states of the eastern part of the country a cold wave, accompanied by strong northwest winds, will force the hiding of Easter finery under furs and heavy overcoats, the weather bureau said.

Prisoner in Syndicalism Trial Declares Preletariat Should Seize Government.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., March 30.—The present government of the United States should be overthrown and a dictatorship of the proletariat established, William Z. Foster declared today in testifying in his trial on charges of violation of the Michigan syndicalist law.

"Do you think that to correct conditions the present government of the United States should be overthrown and a dictatorship of the proletariat such as in Russia established?" Foster was asked.

"Yes," replied the witness. "However, just what followed in Russia would not necessarily follow in the United States under such a dictatorship," Foster added.

MAN JAILED AS SHOT FIRED AT BOXER

Arrested after he was said to have fired one shot at John ("K. O.") Swall, pugilist, as a result of an altercation which took place near a dredger at Talbert where the men were working today, Nick Chutuck, 39, Austrian, was lodged in the county jail on charges of carrying a concealed weapon.

A complaint charging him with attempted murder may be lodged against him, it was said.

About 9:45 a. m. today, Swall and Chutuck became involved in an argument, it was said. The defendant claimed that Swall struck him, and exhibited a broken nose as evidence.

After the mix-up, Chutuck was said to have gone to his car and securing a .38 caliber revolver, started in pursuit of the boxer. The latter was more fleet of foot than the defendant, however, and the only shot fired, at a distance of 500 feet, failed to take effect.

Under Sheriff E. E. French, Constable Joseph Ryan and Deputies Frank Stewart and Vernon Meyers hastened to the scene in response to a call. Nick was arrested at Talbert with the revolver in his possession, it was said.

"30" BULLETIN

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., March 30.—Despite a guard of two hundred citizens strung around the northern and eastern suburbs of the city, the "gentleman raffish" who has entered and looted a score of millionaire homes during the past four weeks, early today entered the home of G. Orino, escaping with valuable work, several thousand dollars.

SIX DEAD AS FAST TRAIN HITS AUTO

Speeding Locomotive Derailed When Machine
Stalls On Tracks

(By United Press Leased Wire)
COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 30.—Six are known dead and probably a dozen were injured in the wreck of a Big Four limited passenger train which crashed into an automobile today at Clintonville, a suburb, near here.

The dead are:
John K. Lee, Cleveland, fireman of the locomotive.
Earl Wilson, Columbus, traveling fireman.
Horace Holbrook, Warren, editor of the Warren Democrat, a passenger.

Mrs. Frank Hemminger, Columbus, driving the automobile.

Two children of Mrs. Hem-minger.
The speeding train was making up lost time. The automobile suddenly jerked on to the crossing and stalled for an instant—then the crash.

The engineer applied all his brakes, stopping so suddenly the entire train was derailed. The locomotive buried itself in the roadbed and the next four cars overturned and piled up.

The train was one of the best on the Big Four between Boston and Cincinnati and was en route from Cleveland to Columbus.

The automobile was driven by Mrs. Hemminger, who had just started with her two children on a trip to Piqua, Ohio. All three were instantly crushed and killed.

Many of the 103 passengers were injured, some seriously. All available aid was rushed to the scene and the hurt were taken to Columbus hospitals.

Both Engineer Green and Fireman Siebert were scalded.
None of the injured is expected to die. How Green and Siebert escaped with their lives appeared a miracle. Their engine turned completely over as it left the tracks. Four men were in the cab when the crash came. One thousand feet of track on the Big Four main line was torn up.

The cab of the locomotive was ripped off and scalding steam released from the boiler. H. A.
Clayton, Pullman conductor, was standing in the rear car. He said the impact was so great that seats and other objects were ripped loose and hurled through sides of the coach.

It was sometime after the wreck before some of the bodies could be identified.

TWO FIREMEN PERISH FIGHTING N. Y. BLAZE

NEW YORK, March 30.—Two firemen were killed in a blaze that swept ten buildings half a block from Bellevue hospital here today.
Fifteen were injured.

The dead:
William Aello, shock and concussions.
Julius H. Spanier, broken back.

Humane Society Puts Ban On Sale of Chicks for Easter

Portland, Ore., March 30.—The Oregon Humane society has decreed that no baby chicks or ducks—live ones, that is—may be sold as Easter favors, according to an announcement of Mrs. F. W. Swanton, head of the society.

Mrs. Swanton claims that many parents buy a baby chick or duck for baby Horace or little Lulu and that Horace and Lulu proceed to get rough with them, thus jeopardizing the little fowls' slender hold on life.

L. A. Beauty in Breach of Promise Case Wins $38-359.81 Verdict in Court.

DETROIT, March 30.—A verdict of $38,359.81 today was awarded Monica Hutton of Los Angeles in the case against the Indemnity Insurance company, which had bonded Arthur F. Stott, rich bachelor, for $40,000.

The case grew out of the failure of Stott to pay Miss Hutton $35,000 when her suit for breach of promise was decided against him in June, 1921. The verdict is for interest and court costs.

It was announced that the verdict, which was rendered by Judge Clyde L. Webster in circuit court, will not be appealed and the payment will be made immediately.

DEFENSE HURLS CHALLENGE IN DEATH TRIAL

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SAN DIEGO, March 30.—The trial of Dr. Louis L. Jacobs, accused of murdering Fritz Mann, Oriental dancer, was halted, temporarily, late yesterday, when,
at the close of the day's testimony, Judge S. M. March announced a recess until Monday morning.

Shortly before the recess was taken the defense challenged Prosecutor Kempley to produce witnesses to prove the "corpus delicti"—that Fritz Mann really was murdered, was not a suicide, or did not die of natural causes.

The state's first effort to connect Jacobs with the girl's death by introduction of alleged significant statements made by himself a week before the dancer's body was found on Torrey Pines beach, was cut short by objections of the defense that corpus delicti had not been proven.

One of the most dramatic incidents of yesterday's hearing was the death of A. E. Kern, manager of the Blue Sea cottages, to identify from the witness stand Dr.
Jacobs as the man who accompanied Fritz Mann at one of the Blue Sea cottage the night of Jan.
14 the evening before the finding of the body.

"Are you able to say that Louis Jacobs is the man who rented cottage number 33 from you the evening of January 14?" asked District Attorney Chester C. Kempley.

"I am not."

"Are you able to say he was not the man?"

"I am not."

Judge S. M. March asked if the girl's companion was light or dark.
Kern said the man was dark, had sunk cheeks and looked as if he might have been a drug addict.

QUIZ SHOWS BIG SUM IN TREASURY

State Control Board Report
Contradicts Chairman
Toy's Charges

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SACRAMENTO, March 30.—Total assets of the state highway commission at the present date are $12,795,795, according to a report released today by Gilbert B. Daniels, chairman of the state board of control. Debts of the road body and contracts in force total $7-417,600, leaving the commission with an unencumbered balance of $5,378,195, the report discloses.

The statement is contradictory to the January announcement of Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the highway commission, that he understood assets of the body on January 1 were only $28,000. When the report was questioned, Toy called for a report by the state board.

According to the Daniels' statement today, the road commission had $20,466,644 in assets when the new commissioners took office.
Liabilities at that time were $14-
212,182, leaving a balance of $6-254,462 as opposed to Toy's claim that the board had only $28,000.

The control board report shows that expenditures of the new highway commission have averaged $1-200,000 per month during the first three months of its term.

SENSATION LOOMS IN SUGAR INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, March 30.—
The department of justice "may spring a surprise" in the near future in its investigation into the alleged sugar conspiracy which resulted in sharp jumps, a high government official said today.

It was emphatically denied that the department had abandoned its inquiry to determine whether the alleged sugar speculators can be prosecuted by the federal government for enhancing the price.
The investigation is being pushed and is "progressing satisfactorily," it was stated.

The intimation in official circles was that the government is about ready to take some drastic action but its moves are still surrounded by unusual secrecy.

The nature of the investigation is such that publicity cannot yet be given to the work, this official said.

MEETS DEATH IN BLAZE

BEAUMONT, Iowa, March 30.— William Grandup was burned to death and his brother, Emil, probably fatally injured in jumping from a window when fire destroyed seven buildings in the business section here today.

BANDITS GET $5000

WATERVILLE, Minn., March 30.—Four men in two automobiles held up Herman Bruth, town marshall, bound and gagged him and escaped with $5,000 worth of loot from the Leauthold general store today.

NO RENT TO PAY.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The judge told William Lefter that in view of the fact that he played millionaire for a month on an empty vaudeville, running up a huge hotel bill, he can play convict for nothing.

Fear Youth Suicide Over Failure to Win Higher Education

LONG BEACH, Calif., March 30.—Because he could not get a college education, Arthur Chattoway, Seattle youth, was believed by police today to have drowned himself in the breakers off Silver Spray Pier.

Late last night his cap and coat were discovered on the pier with a letter addressed to William Haines of Seattle, a friend, in which he told of his fruitless struggles to gain an education. His farewell in the note was "What's the use? Will meet you at the pearly gates."

Chattoway had recently graduated from high school and came here to try to get work in moving pictures in order to earn enough to go to college.

NEW GERMAN PEACE PLAN GIVEN U. S.

Teutons Ready to Open Negotiations for Settlement While Troops Hold Ruhr.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—
Germany is now ready to negotiate for a peace settlement with France before the French troops are withdrawn from the Ruhr.

This important fact, which was learned today, has been communicated to the United States and British governments.

The willingness of the German government to negotiate for settlement on this basis is regarded as of the greatest importance and observers believe it is the biggest concession by which the assembly yesterday about peace since the Ruhr occupation began.

The recent memorandum of Germany holds that the government is ready to enter into negotiations for settlement of the Ruhr crisis through an international conference of business experts, including the United States, while the French and Belgian occupa-tionary force continues in the Ruhr.

AVERT NEW ROW OVER PRIMARY BALLOT BILL

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 30.—
With barely a majority of the members present for the session today, the anticipated contest over the motion to reconsider the vote by which the assembly yesterday defeated the bill regulating primary campaigns was averted when Assemblyman Pomeroy delayed bringing up the measure until next week.

Under the proposed law, candidates for state and congressional offices would be prevented from running on the ticket of more than one political party in any primary campaign.

Speaker Merriam warned the assembly against bringing up any bills over which a contest might develop owing to the meager attendance.

Several uncontested bills were passed as follows:

Saylor allowing women prisoners in California penitentiaries to sell their needlework; giving discharged prisoners $15 instead of $5 and their railroad fares to cities from which they were sentenced.

West, making second hand dealers liable for purchasing stolen books.

A. G. Mitchell, permitting Los Angeles county to establish a superior court department in Long Beach.

Senator Burnett in the upper house took up the session talking on his housing bill, similar to the measure voted down at the general election last fall. The matter was put over until next week, with further argument due on the measure.

Both houses adjourned at noon until Monday morning.

Plan Short Sessions.
Little legislative activity is anticipated for the next five days.
Short sessions, with adjournment at noon in commemoration of Good Friday were in order for today.
Re-convening Monday, both houses will adjourn immediately out of respect to the late Assemblyman Douglas. On Tuesday, according to a resolution presented in both houses, adjournment at noon will be taken to allow the legislators to attend the opening coast league baseball game.

INQUIRY CENTERS IN TEXAS FIELDS

'Get-Rich-Quick' Schemers Face Prosecution on Federal Charges

(By United Press Leased Wire)
FORT WORTH, Texas, March 30.—Federal authorities prepared today for a round-up of alleged fraudulent stock promoters whose nation-wide operations, centered here, have cost their victims millions of dollars, according to investigators now in this field.

Arrival of John W. Crim, assistant attorney general, with a staff of prosecutors, it was expected, would result in the arrest of hundreds of suspects who will be tried by a grand jury for the alleged frauds in oil stocks.

Federal postoffice inspectors have been investigating oil promotion schemes here for several weeks and a federal grand jury is now conducting an inquiry. A number of indictments are expected soon, officials said.

200 Concerns Involved
According to these investigators, there are more than 200 promotion schemes engaged in selling "blue sky" oil stock with headquarters at Fort Worth.

Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Wichita Falls have been other promotion centers.

Federal authorities believe they will uncover here one of the largest and most profitable swindle rings which ever operated in the United States. Lawd get-rich-quick schemes worked on thousands of American "suckers" the past few years have netted some promoters amazing sums, according to the investigators.

FOUR FEDERAL DEPARTMENTS JOIN IN SWINDLE PROBE

WASHINGTON, March 30.—All the powers of the federal government will be used in a nation-wide campaign against fake stock promoters and get-rich-quick artists, inaugurated yesterday by the department of justice.

With official reports showing that these swindlers are mulcting the American people of approximately $100,000 a day, three other government agencies today joined the department of justice in the campaign.

Halt Advertising Frauds.
While the department of justice, represented by Assistant Attorney General Crim, is pressing prosecution of the "blue sky" operators at Fort Worth, Texas, the postoffice department will redouble its efforts to bar from the mails all fraudulent advertising, particularly the glowing literature promising quick riches for small investments.

The federal trade commission, which already filed numerous complaints against alleged fraudulent stock promoters, plans to extend its investigations in co-operation with the department of justice.

Warning To Public
The treasury department today issued a statement warning the public against investing in various kinds of stocks that are favorites of the swindlers.

The statement warned every small investor "to be on guard" and urged the most careful scrutiny of mining, oil, airplane, radio and wireless stocks. It also recommended that people quit buying real estate in distant parts of the country about which they know nothing. Offers of "special inducements" and "hot tips from the ground floor" generally are a suggestion that some fraud is involved in the stocks for sale, the treasury said.

BIG POSSE FAILS IN HUNT FOR LOST BOYS

SAN BERNARDINO, March 30.—
After vainly combing the county yesterday for little Dick Jensen and Dean Meecham, five year old tots who have been missing for six days, 500 volunteer searchers reassembled here this morning to resume their weary quest. Several clues of varying importance have been uncovered, but up to late this morning officers had nothing definite as to the lads' whereabouts.

PULLMAN PLANT FIRE CAUSES HEAVY LOSS

CHICAGO, March 30.—Fire today destroyed a large part of the Pullman works here and endangered main buildings of the plant.

The blaze, fanned by a high wind, destroyed the blacksmith shop, a three-story building 150 feet square. Valuable tools were lost.
The total damage was estimated at

SOVIET LEADER HAS CHANGE FOR WORSE

MOSCOW, March 30.—Premier Lenin is very weak and his general condition is worse, an official bulletin of the Russia, Russian news agency, indicated this afternoon.

The bulletin stated Lenin's pulse had increased to 120 while his temperature was 97, with consequent weakening of the patient.

CITY APPROVES $255,000 IN BOND VOTE

each for parks in the north and south portions of the city were slapped hard. The "no" vote on the seven other proposals ranged from 577 to 623, while on each of the park bond propositions the opposition vote was in excess of 1000.

The vote on the north side park was 1253 yes and 1014 no. On the south side it was 1187 yes and 1079 no.

The hard slap at the park bonds was attributed by some persons to the belief that neither issue was large enough to provide a park that would be at all commensurate with the requirements.

It was nearly 11:30 p. m. when the complete returns were filed with City Clerk Ed Vegely. Returns from Precinct No. 1, at the junior high school, were the last to come in. Precinct No. 9 was the first to report. It is situated in territory in the McFadden tract recently annexed to the city. Only nine votes were cast there.

NAME MRS. SCHROCK MISSIONARY HEAD

Mrs. Perry F. Schrock was elected president; Mrs. Fred Clark vice president; Mrs. A. M. Scott, secretary; Mrs. Allie Fitz, treasurer; Mrs. H. P. Rankin, press reporter, and Mrs. Lillie Oberlin, literary secretary of the Federated Missionary societies of the city churches at the organization's annual meeting held yesterday at the Congregational church.

Resolutions presented by a committee, composed of Mesdames S. M. Davis, M. B. Youel and F. M. Gist, were acted upon. The nominating committee consisted of Mesdames C. W. McNaught, W. H. McCord and M. M. Holmes. Registration committee members were Mesdames W. B. Tedford, L. A. Domie, J. E. Kellogg, Henry Evans, J. Wiley Harris and Miss Minnie Cowan. Mrs. C. W. Burns headed the courtesies committee and Mrs. L. H. Humphrey had charge of the banner.

The 1924 meeting will be held at the First Baptist church. The attendance banner was awarded the Nazarene society, seventeen of whose twenty members were present.

Exceptional growth of various societies during the year was reported by representatives of the First Methodist, Richard Avenue Methodist, Free Methodist, Spurgeon Memorial, First Presbyterian, Reformed Presbyterian, Christian, United Brethren, Episcopal, Congregational, Zion Evangelical, Nazarene and First Baptist churches.

Mrs. Ida Howard, of the Mexican Mission, gave a definition of the distinction between foreign and home missionary work.

"Foreign missionary work is by proxy and we are thrilled by it, while home missionary work is work by proximity and we should be thrilled by it," she declared.

Miss Minnie Phinney, another of the principal speakers, spoke on "Christ at Work in Egypt."

RE-TRIAL DATE SET IN GIRL CASE HERE

E. J. Ahlers, who was granted a re-trial on charges involving a young girl, will come to trial again April 24, Superior Judge R. Y. Williams stated today.

Ahlers, who was found guilty and denied probation, applied for a new trial. In a hearing held in the sick room of Superior Judge Z. B. West, the plea was granted.

WOLVERINE TRACK TEAM LOOKS GOOD

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 30.—With the Western Conference title practically decided, the University of Michigan is now turning its attention to Coach Steve Farrell's 1923 team.

Recently, Michigan beat the University of Chicago tracksters, 65 to 30, the Maroons coping but one first place outside of the relay race. That was in the mile run where Michigan men came in a second and third. In all of the other eight events the Wolverines showed the way.

Coach Farrell, judging from what the lads have done to date, has at least nine athletes who should bring points to the Ann Arbor school no matter what the class of the competition may be. Chief among these, of course, is DeHart Hubbard, sensational colored star, who bids fair to equal, if not surpass, the all-round performance of his predecessor, Carl Johnson. Hubbard won both the hurdle races at Chicago, breaking one record and tying the other. He is also a clever high jumper, and a wonderful broad jumper, being capable of doing over 24 feet in the latter event.

HURT BY SNOW PLOW

LANHAM, Neb., March 29.—William Schultness, fifty-eight year old Burlington section foreman, of Hanover, Kansas, received injuries from which he may die, when he was struck and thrown fifteen feet by a snow plow, on the tracks three miles south of Lanham. He was patrolling his section, using a motor car, and being muffed heavily, could not bear distinctly. The plow, which was traveling in the same direction, bore suddenly down upon him. There was little snow at the place of the accident and the front of the snow plow was covered with snow that it was impossible to see the train coming.

WILL CONTEST CASE TAKEN OFF CALENDAR

Because the filing of two additional wills in superior court here last Wednesday took the case out of issue for the time being, hearing on the contested petition for probate of the last testament of Amalie Frohling, wealthy Anaheim woman, was taken off calendar in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court today.

Hearing on the contest, filed by a son, Walter Wiman, who declared that the petitioner, Alma Pellegrin, was concealing the major portion of a $200,000 estate was scheduled for today. Filing an amended petition, however, the petitioner filed two other wills, drawn within 24 hours of the first, and virtually duplicating the first.

It was expected that the son would contest these asserted instruments, also.

HOLD FUNERAL FOR GEORGE A. WHIDDEN

Simple but impressive ceremonies were held at Winbiger's Mission Funeral home this afternoon for G. A. Whidden, pioneer of this city, who died at his home here Wednesday night.

Many friends of the pioneer were present to pay their last respects and the floral contributions were numerous and beautiful.

The Rev. William E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. He reviewed briefly the life of Mr. Whidden, and particularly his activities since coming to Santa Ana in 1886.

Mr. Whidden was prominent in Santa Ana Masonic circles. Ritualistic services of the Masons were part of the services this afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas Willis sang. There were no pallbearers, as the body is to be taken to Los Angeles tomorrow for cremation.

BALL RIOT ACCUSED FREED, AGAIN HELD

Freed on charges of interfering with an officer, which grew out of a riot at a Huntington Beach baseball game several weeks ago, Frank Ware, Sam Bledsoe and Frank Clogger were re-arrested on warrants charging them with disturbing the peace. Today they were free under $50 bond, facing trial May 22 at 9 a. m.

Jack Moran, George Cleveland and R. L. Reeves, who were to have faced trial today on charges of interfering, were freed when the cases were dismissed on motion of the district attorney. They were not re-arrested.

The arrests of the men followed the disturbance, in the course of which Roy Ballard, an officer, shot Alfred Moore. Ballard was assisting his brother, Officer Perry Ballard in quieting a disturbance, it was said, when attempts were made to mob them.

S. A. MAN HURT AS CAR RAMS P. E. TRAIN

Hans E. Wagner, 1218 1/2 North Broadway, tire company proprietor, was in a critical condition at the Whittier hospital today, as a result of injuries sustained when the automobile in which he was riding collided with a car in a Pacific Electric train near La Habra early today.

The exact extent of Wagner's injuries was expected to be determined from X-ray photographs which surgeons at the hospital were preparing to take. A long gash was cut across one cheek.

C. L. Spencer, 1735 South Marwood boulevard, Los Angeles, the other occupant of the car, escaped with minor injuries. Falls to See Train According to Spencer, the driver of the automobile failed to observe the train, a freight, which was crossing the road south of La Habra, until too late to avoid hitting it. He then turned sharply to the left, causing the car to collide with a post, adjacent to the track. The force of the impact, however, caused the rear of the automobile to swerve and crash into the ninth car of the train.

Removed to Hospital Wagner was taken to the Whittier hospital while the other man returned to this city.

County Motorcycle Officer L. J. Heffner, passing by, took charge of affairs, and assisted in moving the wrecked automobile from the tracks. Officers Wood, Yates and Rudy of Fullerton reached the scene shortly afterward, and ordered the wrecked machine removed to Fullerton.

At the Whittier hospital it was declared that Wagner's condition was "extremely serious," and that he had not spent a good night.

MAYOR IS ILL

TABLE ROCK, Neb., March 26.—Attending physicians report very little if any change in the condition of C. A. Cooper, ex-mayor of Humboldt, who has been confined to his home in that city for the past two months with a complication that seems to baffle medical skill.

most awful agony from what the doctors called Rheumatic Eczema.
The inflammation and pain was so intense that almost boiling water had no effect and only felt blood warm on my face. I could get no sleep and was continually groaning with pain. My doctor gave me several remedies in the way of greasy salves which had the vilest smell on earth but I got little relief and could not appear in public. My druggist advised HOKARA. I tried a small jar and got immediate re-

NEWS BRIEFS
Members of the First Methodist church here today looked forward to tonight when, at 7:15 o'clock, a special Easter service will be held.
The pastor, the Rev. Will A. Betts, will administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The Rev. Dr.
Clyde M. Orist will assist. The vested choir will sing an anthem,
"Holy is God the Lord." Mrs. Hulda Deltz will sing "There Is a Green Hill Far Away" (Gounod); and Mrs. W. B. Snow, at the organ, will play "Gethsemane" (Mallings);
"Good Friday Spell" (Gretblad); and "A Lenten Supplication" (Ditt-rich).
Students of the Santa Ana schools this afternoon packed their books away and left the school houses in joyous anticipation of a week's cessation from studies. The spring, or Easter, vacation was the occasion for the kiddies bidding good-by to school activities. School will resume April 9. All schools of the county will close for the week, according to R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent.
Many Kansans now living in Santa Ana and other cities in Orange county are packing picnic lunches today and making other preparations with a view to attending the reunion of folk from the Sunflower state, to be held tomorrow at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles.
A record crowd is expected,
according to announcement.
The Fullerton farm center is scheduled to meet next Monday night, it was announced today at the office of the Orange county farm bureau here.

R. L. Bisby, manager of the Spurgeon Realty company; Mrs.
Bisby; Miss Gale Shelton, teacher at the Franklin school, and Miss Sherril Spurgeon, daughter of W.
H. Spurgeon, left here today by automobile for the northern part of the state. They will visit San Francisco, Santa Rosa and other points. They plan to return April 8.

The Y. M. C. A. training class for boys' leaders will meet Monday at 7 p. m. at the First Presbyterian church. The meeting will close at 8 p. m. in order to accommodate those who desire to attend the Orange County Choral union performance at the Temple theater that evening. The evening study will be on "The Social Life of the Boy." It will deal with the boy's need for companions, and the possibility of giving proper direction to his social instincts.

Promising a barbecue at Orange county park, the dairy department of the Orange county farm bureau today extended through its chairman, F. G. Stinson, an invitation to the Southern California Purebred Livestock association to hold its meeting April 21 in Orange county.
It was learned from W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor.

"V" boys are planning many overnight hikes and camping trips for the Easter vacation, which will close Orange county schools all next week, according to T. P. Mc-Kee, community secretary of the S. A. Y.

Six building permits were issued today for $8,550 in buildings, making the total for the month 142 permits for $510,674, and for the year to date 437 permits for $1,195,841 in buildings, according to records of W. S. Decker, building inspector.

The second quarterly installment of the city license tax becomes due Monday, it was announced today at the office of H. L. Vagely, city clerk.
Edwin F. Whedon, secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau, conferred with representatives of the Poultry Producers' association in Los Angeles today as to ways and means of increasing the scope of that association's operations in relation to the poultry department of the Orange county farm bureau, and other county bureaus of this region, it was reported.

Junior and Intermediate Santa Ana "V" boys will take an educational trip to Los Angeles and Pasadena with T. P. McKee, community secretary, April 6, he announced today. Seventy-five boys are planning to make the trip, he said, which will include a visit to the ostrich farm, to the alligator farm Brookside park, and finish with a plunge at the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. pool.

Rooms in which to accommodate delegates to the musical convention to be held here April 4 to 7 inclusive, should be registered with Miss Lela Mintz, telephone 1548, chairman of the housing committee of the local convention board, J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

LAGUNAS' AIR BILL SCORES
BIG HIT

The Laguna Beach program, which was broadcast over KFAW last night proved to be exceptional, and one which will rank with the best ever given at The Register's broadcasting station.
Musical numbers of a high order were given by Laguna's most talented artists.
For those who like the best in music, the Laguna program made a strong appeal as it was entirely free from syncopated melodies.
E. E. Jahraus opened the evening with an enthusiastic talk on Laguna Beach and what it had to offer. He left no doubt in the minds of all those who were tuned-in that it was "Laguna Beach Night" on the air.
Master Victor Rankin made a big hit with two pianologues and presented his numbers like a veteran. Two men rendered their own compositions, F. W. Cuprien, who gave a piano solo, and James Sanborn Murphy, tenor soloist.
Miss Josephine Hills, violinist, and Mrs. F. W. Case, pianist, did much to make the Laguna evening an artistic success. The program was as follows:
1. Ten-Minute Talk, "Laguna Beach," E. E. Jahraus.
Violin Solo, (a) Serenade, "d".
Ambrosia, (b) "Romance Andalouse," Sarasate; Miss Josephine Hills, accompanied by Mrs. F. W.
Case.
2. Piano Solo, "Polonaise," Mc-Dowell—Mrs. F. W. Case.
3. Pianologue, (a) "Woes of a Boy," (b) "The Big Brown Bear," Master Victor Rankin, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Weiler.
4. Piano Solo, (a) "Shepherd's Lament," (b) Venice. Played by the composer, F. W. Cuprien.
5. Tenor Solo, (a) "Ah, Though the Silver Moon Were Mine," Lahr, (b) "Thine Own Lovely Eyes," Murphy, (c) "Love is Mine," Gartner, James Sanborn Murphy, accompanied by Mrs. J.
M. Murphy.
6. Violin Solo, (a) "Caprice Viennola," Kreisler; (b) "Nobody Knows de Trouble I've Seen," White, Miss Hills, accompanied by Mrs. Case.
Next Monday night KFAW will offer Grigsby's Symphony Orchestra in a fine program. This organization is credited with being the best dance orchestra in this section of the country.

BOOSTERS FROM MERCED WILL TOUR COUNTY

Santa Ana will hold open house next week.
While the musical clubs are entertaining the delegates to the state musical convention here, April 4 to 7, the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce will be escorting a party of 135 from the Merced Chamber of Commerce on a tour of Orange county.
Automobiles are needed, and will be needed on several different occasions next week to uphold Santa Ana's reputation for open-handed hospitality, according to J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber.
"The musical clubs have asked us to open a register here for au-tomobilists who volunteer to aid in carrying for the transportation about town of the music convention delegates," he said.
"Mrs. Charles F. Smith, chairman of the convention hospitality committee, said that automobiles would be needed especially on Friday and Saturday afternoon.
"She said cars would be used Friday evening to transport the musicians from St. Ann's Inn to the high school auditorium following dinner at the Inn, and later to their rooms.
"On Saturday afternoon cars would be needed, she said, to carry the visitors to Laguna Beach."
The Merced Chamber of Commerce party due here Thursday April 5, will be taken on a short drive to the Orange county park where luncheon will be served.
Metzgar said. Thirty-five cars will be needed to care for this party, he said. He invites drivers to join the party that day for lunch and to show Merced how Santa Ana entertains visitors.

OLD FIRE BOON IN COMBATING NEW BLAZE

Even a mountain fire may prove a godsend.
Those who fought fire in the Trabuco canyon this week say that was a fire that occurred last November that prevented all of the south side of Old Saddleback from devastation.
Last November Jacob Yaeger, miner in the Trabuco, built a fire atop of a dead horse. That was easier than burying the animal.
The fire got away, and ran up a small side-canyon of the Trabuco.
Proves Firebreak.
When the fire broke out last Monday, this strip of burned-over canyon caused by Yaeger's attempt to get rid of an offensive carcass proved a veritable firebreak. Had it not been for this strip, flames almost certainly would have swept the head of Santiago canyon, possibly as far down as Modjeska's, it was declared.

The Three-Piece Suit, The Amwolaine Cape, and Other Glad Easter Apparel---Pictured

The woman who selects her Easter or Spring wardrobe from the ever changing, ever varied completeness of the Rankin fashion shops knows that Rankin fashions are authentic—regardless of the price she pays for merchandise. These suggestions in outer apparel are the embodiment of the mode.

The reading of this news is all the more interesting because of the exact illustrations of the garments we wish to write about.
You are cordially invited to come to Rankin's second floor and ask to have these and other new garments laid before you for personal inspection.

---The Exact Pictures
No. 87—For the woman who tires of the severe tailored lines here is something quite different, yet none the less smart. In this suit of Read's Twill the braid stitching gives it individuality, as well as the factive, little side buckle. The flare cuffs, the tie belt and graceful hang of the skirt all add to give it the desired effect of lovely femininity. $65.00.
No. 96—After all, there is no garment in a woman's wardrobe quite so useful as the knock-about suit, and here is one of that type especially adaptable to sports wear because of its material. Mixed Tweed, and extremely simple in its cut, though none the less smart on that account. Low, comfortably placed belt and pockets. Full messaline lined. $57.50.
No. C-82—The artfulness of Printz design is in this attractive suit of Read's Twill. Exquisitely tailored, yet severe in its clean cut lines and closely fitting sleeves, it is fashioned particularly for the striking woman of slightly larger proportions, and the effect of this model is to give the slender silhouette, so much desired this Spring. Skinner lined. $65.00.
No. C-14—A cape to thrill any feminine heart, but especially that of the girl in her teens. Of Amwolaine, gracefully fashioned to fit closely about the throat with a throw collar artistically trimmed and caught over the left shoulder, it makes a very bewitching little garment in which to express the youthfulness of Spring. Silk lined. $69.50.

the biggest in the Santa Ana mountains in thirty years.
Today twenty-five men, employes of the county road department, who have been on the fire line since Tuesday, were brought home in trucks.
Fire Extinguished.
The fire is officially out. For two days the men have been working along the edges of the burned
area.
Nat H. Neff, an engineer of the road department, said that yesterday he was on the ridge above Tra-buco. The fire, he said, barely got into the head of Bell canyon.
"Just a few tongues 200 or 300
yards long got down into Bell," said
he. "Most of the fire was over the top of the ridge at the head of Tra-buco. It swept the potterous back of the head of the San Juan canyon."
County Fire Warden W. E. Adkinson, with clothes in rags and shoes barely hanging to his feet,
and his crew of men finished closing the gap between San Juan Hot Springs and Trabuco canyons this morning, and went home for more clothes and shoes. He said that he went into the San Juan Tuesday night. The fire burned itself
out on the top of Sugar Loaf peak,
two miles northeast of San Juan Hot Springs, after Anderson and his men had strategically stopped
the fire in the canyon bottom and headed it for the top of the peak.
Oliver Adkinson, brother of the fire warden, is nursing a badly cut and bruised hand received Wednesday when, in cutting brush, he struck a snag.

tains in thirty years.
Today twenty-five men, employes of the county road department, who have been on the fire line since Tuesday, were brought home in trucks.
Fire Extinguished.
The fire is officially out. For two days the men have been working along the edges of the burned
area.
Nat H. Neff, an engineer of the road department, said that yesterday he was on the ridge above Tra-buco. The fire, he said, barely got into the head of Bell canyon.
"Just a few tongues 200 or 300
yards long got down into Bell," said
he. "Most of the fire was over the top of the ridge at the head of Tra-buco. It swept the potterous back of the head of the San Juan canyon."
County Fire Warden W. E. Ad-
kinson, with clothes in rags and
shoes barely hanging to his feet,
and his crew of men finished closing the gap between San Juan Hot Springs and Trabuco canyons this morning, and went home for more clothes and shoes. He said that he went into the San Juan Tuesday night. The fire burned itself
out on the top of Sugar Loaf peak,
two miles northeast of San Juan
Hot Springs, after Anderson and
his men had strategically stopped
the fire in the canyon bottom and
headed it for the top of the peak.
Oliver Adkinson, brother of the
fire warden, is nursing a badly cut
and bruised hand received Wednesday when, in cutting brush, he struck a snag.
Star Social Club
Delightful hospitality prevailed

Cooked Food Sale
Women of Ebell are planning for their usual cooked food sale to be conducted tomorrow at the Ebell Tea Room on West Fourth street.
Home cooked foods of the finest quality and flavor are available at these sales and all money realized is for that fund so close to the hearts of Santa Ana womankind—
the Ebell clubhouse building fund.
At noon the luncheon menu will feature Boston baked beans and the accompanying delicacies of New England.
Current Events
When Mrs. Harvey Gardner,
Mrs. Charles Kendall Jr. and Mrs.
Arthur Schauer entertained the Current Events section of Ebell club recently with a radio luncheon it was a new departure for the section.
The affair was at the home of Mrs. Gardner where a splendid radio set was recently installed. The noon concert was keenly enjoyed by all the members as they lingered over the delicious luncheon menu.
At the afternoon session, following the usual roll call responded to with events of interest in the world, Miss Marjory Ellis delved into history and gave a spirited account of King Tut-ankh-Amen and his wife as revealed in recent archaeological investigations.

Sonny Would Rather Die Than Admit it, But—

—he has most decided tastes about clothes. When wearing a favorite suit, he is always more particular about keeping it clean. Sonny will be mighty careful in any of the smart new suits at Vandermast's because they are just what a real boy wants.

New Suits, $9.75

Fine soft finish woolen fabrics that make up so well in Norfolk style; yoke back with two knife pleats; higher waistline—in fact, the kind of suit the older boys wear. A straight, one-pant suit; sizes 5 to 10 years.

Wash Suits, $1.95

Wish we had room to tell all about these slick button-on wash suits with their contrasting collars, but we ought to say a word about those at $2.45, some with short sleeves and checked collar and cuffs—and those at $2.95 in many colors; "flapper" suits, too!

Derby Rib Sports Hose 65c

Three-quarter sports hose with fancy colored tops; in fawn, black and brown.

New Easter Suits, $14.75

Some mighty fine looking grays in this display; browns, too, with faint stripes of green and a dash of yellow. Sizes 9 to 16 years.

Tweed suits, with separate buckle belt, are great in tans and grays—$12.50.

New Blouses, $1

Fast colors, Eton shaped collars or sports collars—all stripes; solid white and tans are $1.15.

Some Hats! 65c

Solid color crowns and checked brims. Black and brown straws at $1.50, some novelty crowns. Other straws up to $3.50. Genuine PANAMA hats, perfect quality, at $1.50 and $2.50!

SOCIETY

Success Crowns P-T. A. Plans for Program and Bazaar

Members of Franklin school Parent-Teacher association were congratulating themselves today upon the success which attended the entertainment and bazaar held last night at the school on West Fourth street.

Such crowds gathered for the program and patronized the various booths so generously that the association today had a sum quite a bit in excess of $100 with which to complete payments on the phonograph and to equip the kitchen of the school.

The program opened with two songs, "Solitude" and "Tambourines" by children of the fifth grade and a clever reading by Eugene Best who told of "When Pa Cleans Out the Furnace."

The "Tiny Tot Wedding" in which was Thelma Thorne, attended by dainty Elma Shields as flower girl, was wedded with quaint ceremony to Master Robert Steeves by a dignified clergyman, Master Charles White, was a charming part of the evening's entertainment.

In addition to a large group of guests and attendants, were near relatives enacted by Patricia McClure, Kenneth Waite and Ivan Williams while John Rabe and Charles Basney were ushers. "I Love You Truly" was sung by a trio of little maids, Ruth Newman, Lila Anderson and Marie Steele.

Following the wedding Mrs. Nat H. Neff in her usual charming way sang "Shoogy Shoo" to her own accompaniment, responding to the spirited applause with a plaintive little Negro croon, "Little Puff O' Smoke."

Mrs. Ed Vegely won hearty laughs in appreciation of her clever parody on "The Psalm of Life" and followed with "Willie Wants a Drink of Water."

The entertainment reached its climax in the appearance of some of the talented Spanish folk of the community who presented songs, dances and instrumental numbers, opening with two solos by Jesus Garcia who sang "Al Alva" and "Ay, Ay, Ay" with Miss Rith Frothingham as his accompanist.

His delightful songs were followed by equally pleasing mandolin and steel guitar music offered by the three brothers, Jesus, Jose and Baltazar who played "Anita" and "Sangre Mexicana." This part of the program was brought to a close by the Spanish dance, "La Jota" in which Miss Esther Garcia and Jesus Garcia, in beautiful Spanish costumes, danced to the accompaniment of the remaining two brothers on guitar and mandolin. The appreciation of the audience was marked as was that of the association for the courtesy which gave such talent to the evening's pleasure.

Concluding the program and covering themselves with glory were the small folk of the third, fourth and fifth grades who presented the pretty and fantastic "Toy Shop" with Master Floyd Best as "Tack Hammer, the Toy Maker." Little Miss Cleo Shields as the dainty "Fairly," gave the assembled toys an hour of life and the result was a lovely sight as the dolls came to life and enacted their roles.

Clever dances by different individuals of the group and a quaint song by the Japanese doll, wee Laura Kim, one of the daughters of Nippon who attends the school, were among the novelty acts introduced. Special dolls given delightful interpretations were "Raggy Ann" by Marguerite Wells, "Sailor Boy" by Mildred Haywood; Scottish doll by Martha Hendricks; Italian doll by Lola Ments; French doll by Evelyn Owens; "Jack in the Box" by Rollin Craig and "Captain of the Soldiers," Henry Gay who put his soldier boys through their maneuvers.

Others taking the part of the quaint toy folk were the little Evelyn Higgins, Natalie Neff, Ruth Jenkins, Catherine Costello, and Masters Eugene Best, Dick Robinson, Robert Clingan, while the soldiers were Vernon Shaw, Lawrence Newland, Harvey Sutherland, Harry Spragin, Willie Santa Cruz, Paul Gyalva, Chester Steeves and Sherman Nugent.

This concluded the program and the remainder of the evening was spent at the booths and in the refreshment room where many delectable things were served by the committee in charge.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion. So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probability nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid. To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of Effluated Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as Effluated Magnesia which can be obtained from any drugstore in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Effluated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—adv.

Calumpit Auxiliary

One of the pleasant events in Calumpit auxiliary annals was the trip to Long Beach which a group of local members took yesterday in response to the invitation from Ida Saxton McKinley auxiliary of that city, to attend its big all-day bazaar and noon dinner.

This was held in Long Beach pavilion and was a decided success and highly enjoyable to the Santa Ana contingent which was greeted most hospitably by the sister organization. A pleasant feature was the serenade tendered the members by the famous drum corps of old soldiers of the Civil War, which is one of the beach city's possessions upon which she prides herself.

Attending from Calumpit auxiliary were Mesdames Nannie H. Reed, Bertha N. Dixon, Maude Miller, Hannah Bentz, Thomas P. McDonald, T. F. Dresser, Mary E. Cooper, Lula B. Chatlain, Jean Tantlinger, Frances Dresser and Edith Camp of Orange.

Auld Lang Syne Club

When members of the Auld Lang Syne club met recently at the home of Mrs. Roy Oldfield it was to enjoy a bountiful noon-day luncheon and a happy social time.

Fourteen members and four guests were present and after a brief business session, needlework was produced and fingers flew as the afternoon waned. The invitation of Mrs. Agnes Stanley to meet with her at her Garden Grove home May 24, was accepted.

Enjoying the day with Mr. and Mrs. Oldfield were Mrs. Mina Newsom, Estelle Harper, Lida Mitchell, Carrie Chaffee, Mittie Chaffee and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley of Garden Grove; Mrs. Will Newsom of Rivera; Mr. and Mrs. Jo Lowell, Mrs. Grace Finn, Mrs. Emma Wassum, Miss Percy Head of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Jennie Johnson of Laguna.

Wedding Anniversary Happily Celebrated

"Time has touched them lightly," thus thought the friends that gathered recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gammell, 307 S. Broadway, to celebrate the anniversary of the wedding of their hosts forty years ago in Minnesota. The wedding cake, ice cream and wafers.

As the friends bade the happy bride and groom farewell, they expressed the wish that they might meet ten years hence for the golden wedding.

Easter Apparel

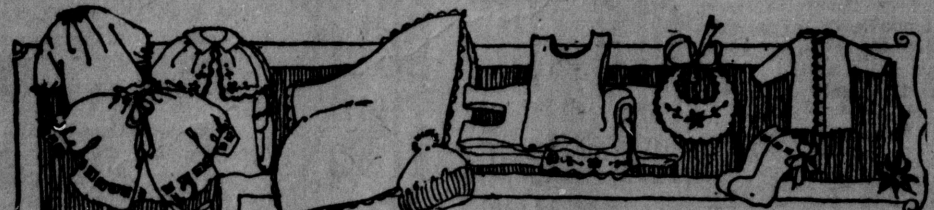

As Unrestrained as the Ripples of Joyous Laughter Now Await to Receive Your Admiring Glances

Once again Dame Fashion has waved her Magic Wand, and from out of the innermost recesses of that mysterious place we call the imagination she has summoned the conceptions for women and misses, and has developed the creations which we now ask you to view.

Coats, Suits, Skirts, Blouses, Sweaters and Silk Dresses

Constitute the collection of pieces which will be on display tomorrow. Low prices will be in evidence, so Choosing can be done very economically

Focus attention on these new arrivals in our apparel sections. They mean more than merely new garments, for they express new ideas, new colors and new materials of great charm and individuality, such as the Egyptian designs. Do not be afraid they will be too extreme or too expensive for your purse, for all our models are always moderate in price.

Infants' Easter Wear

Many weeks have been spent in preparing for this event. Every little wearable which takes part in it we chose as carefully and as painstakingly as you would yourself. We know how particular you mothers are about these little things and it was from your point of view that we made our selections. We picked in every instance only the daintiest made and prettiest looking styles we could find, and we know you will take great delight in making their acquaintance, and choosing for baby from their assortments.

Afternoon Bridge Continues Series of Spring Hospitalitys

Among the many Santa Ana hostesses who are seizing the opportunity offered by the Lenten lull and the unexcelled beauty of the spring weather to offer a series of social functions, is Mrs. W. L. Grubb whose Edgewood road home has been the center of her activities although she has been joint hostess with Mrs. H. H. Reeves at the home of the latter on one or two recent occasions.

One of the delightful affairs in which she has been the moving spirit was that of yesterday afternoon when nearly half a hundred guests, responding to her invitation, gathered for an afternoon of cards.

The golden southland was expressed in decorations of the harmoniously lovely home, great bowls of California poppies catching up the sunlight of the day. Poppy yellow too were the gifts bestowed upon Mrs. Carl Newman, Mrs. William S. L. and Mrs. Jay Hamill at the close of the games, for artistic pottery in yellow luster was chosen by Mrs. Grubb for her prizes. Mrs. Newman holding high score, received a flower bowl on carved teakwood base, Mrs. Lutz was awarded a jar and to Mrs. Hamill was given the consolation of a similar although smaller jar, which like the others, had its individual carved base.

Assisting in hostess duties were Mrs. H. T. Duckett, Mrs. H. H. Reeves and the hostesses' daughter, Mrs. Herbert Wagner, one of the youthful matrons of the city's social set.

The floral motif of the affair was emphasized in the table appointments at the tea hour, for poppies offered a sunny center to each table where a dainty menu was served.

Mrs. J. C. Hubbard of Omaha, a house guest of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh at Aksarben ranch was an interesting out-of-town guest.

Orpheo Chorus Enjoys Party

After working hard to entertain others during the school year, members of the Junior College Orpheo chorus voted to give themselves an entertainment, which took the form of a party in the high school gymnasium last night.

The Orpheo Chorus successfully entertained at the Faculty Follies several months ago and recently at the high school assembly. Under the direction of Miss Wickes these students have worked up an excellent chorus and part of the time last night was devoted to singing chorus songs. Games, music and dancing occupied the evening which was concluded with delicious refreshments furnished by members of the chorus.

Those who attended were the Misses Estelle Higgins, Hazel Kinsey, Elizabeth Anderson, Clara Carmichael, Dorothy Sammis, Thelma Simmons, Messrs. Horchell Settle, Claude Hayward, Stanley Wheelock, Harry Farrar, Carl Opp, Fred May, Philip Taylor and Tevis Westgate and Miss Margaret Wickes, of the music department.

S. O. S.

Loud cries for help are being carried by the radio to the world at large—as represented by Santa Ana and vicinity.

They radiate from the Community Players' headquarters and are indeed frenzied in their appeal.

"Good Gracious Annabelle" threatens to go on the rocks unless help comes at once! Has anyone the music to a song that MUST be sung in the production but which the most rigorous search has failed to produce at any local music store?

Clare Kimmer, that fertile producer of topical and popular songs is the author, but the song seems impossible to obtain unless some kindly disposed person discovers it among old music and presents it to the Players. The words are as follows:

Other eyes to mine are ever speaking,
Eyes of brown, eyes of blue—
And an answer to this question seeking,
Is it you—ah, tell me—is it you?
Other eyes to mine are ever speaking.

Only yours pass me by
The only eyes to which I could reply,
It is I—my darling, it is I.

Sometimes they're merry, laughing eyes that smile,
Sometimes they're wistful eyes, that say,
"Forget your memories a little while,
And love me—just today!"
Other eyes to mine are speaking,
Eyes of brown—eyes of blue—
Yours are the only eyes I'm seeking,
Is it you—my darling, it is you!

Sunset Club Greet Group of Wives for "One Night Only"

For the first time in its history, the Sunset club last night admitted the wives of its members into the more or less sacred precincts of the club. It was not a trespass on the part of the ladies, but a party; they were present by the invitation of their husbands.

The club's ladies' banquet was something of a dedication to the club's new quarters, the third floor of the First National bank building. These rooms have been comfortably fitted up, and the eighty members of the club are getting a great deal of enjoyment out of their associations.

Last evening, following an inspection of the clubrooms, the hosts and their visitors sat down to an excellent turkey dinner cooked by four Sunset club men, Jay Hamill, Dan Cook, Amos Cox and White. The tables were beautifully decorated. A wonderful red rosebud was presented to each of the guests.

George S. Smith, president of the club, presided as toastmaster, his witty introductions being in accord with the utmost good feeling that prevailed throughout the gathering. In response to the call of the toastmaster, talks were made by Mrs. H. T. Trueblood, B. R. Ford, Mrs. George Balderston, J. S. Smart, Mrs. E. L. Morrison and W. M. Clayton. F. L. Abbott, of the high school faculty, reviewed some of the history of the radio, which review was followed by demonstrations on an instrument installed by the Radio Den.

Each of the 125 persons present was called on to give the state or country of his or her birth and to tell the number of years resided in California. It developed that very few were native Californians. The men of the club were highly complimented by their guests upon the successful manner in which the affair was carried through.

Local Musicians Gain New Laurels

Appearing yesterday at the 11 o'clock assembly of Orange high school, a trio of Santa Ana musicians added new triumphs to their list, for their reception at the hands of the high school body was a most flattering one.

The handsome new auditorium of the school was the scene of the recital in which one Tunison Peak, Miss Mabel Woodworth and Ollie Mae Enlow Matthews figured. Mrs. Peak and Miss Woodworth gave a program of two piano numbers for which they are rapidly becoming famous in musical circles of Southern California. Mrs. Matthews, in a group of violin numbers again proved her mastery of the instrument.

Adding to the pleasure of the program was the appearance of an Orange vocalist, Mrs. Finster, who sang beautifully to the piano accompaniment of Percy Richards of the Orange faculty.

Friends Welcome Wee Newcomer

A cordial welcome has been extended Master Rodney Curtis Manning, whose arrival in Santa Ana at the event of March 28, 1923. Young Master Manning will soon receive to all admiring friends at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor G. Manning, 320 West Pine street, where he expects to add a pound a week to his present weight of seven and a half pounds.

Light Bearers

Such pleasant plans are being made for an Easter party for the Light Bearers of the First Presbyterian church. Recitations and songs will be featured on the program and Mrs. Bruce Monroe will tell the missionary story in the parlors of the church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

The children are expected to bring a special offering for missions. Following the program all will be taken to a nearby grassy lawn where the Easter bunnies have promised to hide quantities of eggs for the youngsters to have the pleasure of hunting.

Local Guests Greet Lions of Woman's Press Club

Writer folk of the city were keenly interested in the recent meeting of the Woman's Press club of Southern California of which Alice Fessenden Peters, (Mrs. D. B. Peters) of this city is a member.

The affair, designated as "press day" was at the club's rooms in the Los Angeles Ebell clubhouse many many celebrities of newspaper and book world were present, among them being Will Levington, Compton, Gene Stratton Porter and Frederick Ward.

Alma Whitaker, feature writer of one of the Los Angeles dailies, was another interesting personage present while Mr. Growkoski, editor of the new magazine of verse, "Caprice," was another as well as Editor Ford of the Times Sunday magazine and Randolph Lee, a feature writer on a Los Angeles paper.

Dr. Cole, curator of the famous Huntington library was one of the most interesting persons present and in an informal manner discussed the great collection of books of which he has charge—said to be finer even than the British library especially in its collection of Shakespeareana. The library is to be opened to the public in the near future and the members of the Press club are to have the honor of being the first guests to be entertained.

The inspiring afternoon ended with an informal tea enjoyed by members and guests. Attending from this city were Mrs. Peterson and her guests, Miss Beulah May and Miss Doris Hutchins.

Torosa Rebekah

An exceptionally large attendance of members and visiting members of Torosa Rebekah lodge witnessed the interesting initiation ceremonies of a class of six candidates at the latest meeting of the order at Odd Fellows hall.

Many interesting business matters followed the floor work, among them being the selection of delegates to represent the lodge at the assembly to be held in San Francisco, May 7 to 12. Those named were Mesdames Frankie Johnson, H. F. Pankey, George B. Prather and Fannie M. Lacy, present trustees of the Orphans' home at Gilroy.

Elaborate plans were made for the next meeting when on April 11 the chapter will celebrate its twenty-third anniversary. Mrs. Mary E. Palmer of Orange, district deputy president, will make her official visit and the occasion will be made one of joyful celebration.

At the conclusion of the regular lodge session, the way was led to the banquet room where where baked beans with hot rolls, salad and coffee were served by a hospitable committee headed by Mrs. Gladys Wilson.

STRAWBERRY PRICES INCREASE IN S. F.

Supplies Reported Liberal With Quotations Running from $4 to $4.50

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Approximately 20 crates of strawberries were received from Los Angeles and sold at $4 to $4.50 per crate.
Withdrawals of apples from city cold storage amounted to 24,724 boxes, 221,257 boxes remaining in storage.

Receipts of asparagus amounted to 4,252 boxes. Much of this supply must go to the canners, who are paying six to seven cents on good field run stock. Street prices on asparagus are unchanged.
The potato market is easier with heavier receipts reported from the river and out of the state. About 21 cars of potatoes arrived from Washington by boat. Some of these will probably go to Los Angeles.

The onion market is inactive. City cold storage holdings were reduced by 8,516 sacks during the week, 45,933 sacks remaining in storage.
There was a fair amount of trading in all classes of poultry. Receipts consisted of one car from Texas and another from Nebraska. The top price on sales of colored hens was 30 cents a pound.
Fancy hen turkeys sold as high as 30 cents, while large toms turkeys were selling around 25 cents a pound.

Citrus Market

NEW YORK, March 30.—Nineteen cars oranges, no lemons sold. Orange market slightly higher in some spots with very little general change. Averages range from $2.34 to $5.12. Highest price paid for fourteen boxes Tuscany, $5.25. Weather cloudy; 8 a. m. temperature 36.
A shipment of Carmencita brand St. Michael oranges from the Northern Orange County Fruit exchange was reported yesterday on eastern citrus markets. These were sold in Philadelphia and went for $3.95 per box.

START DRILLING ON 5 NEW H. B. WELLS

Drilling operations were begun on five new wells in the Huntington Beach oil field during the week ending March 24, according to the weekly bulletin of the state mining bureau, department of petroleum and gas, received here today.
The Standard Oil company led in new operations by starting work on two wells on the Hunt B. lease. These will be known as No. 21 and 22. Fred B. Foster & Co., White Bear Petroleum syndicate and the Pacific Petroleum corporation were the other concerns starting new wells.

Tests for water shut-off was made on eight wells during the same period. The Shell company made two tests. Others making tests were the Standard Oil, Malis Anchor Lease company, Mileys-Keck Oil company, Amalgamated Oil company, Jameson Petroleum company and White Bear Petroleum syndicate.
Work of deepening or redrilling present wells was started by the Shell company on its No. 3 well on the Devenport lease in the Huntington Beach field. The General Petroleum corporation is doing similar work on its No. 1 well on the Dabney lease.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Tye was taken ill Saturday and a doctor was summoned.
Mr. and Mrs. Day returned Sunday evening from their visit in Orange at the home of friends. They returned to the home of Mrs. Day's brother, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baker. Mr. Day left Wednesday, but Mrs. Day will remain for a longer visit. Mr. Day is employed in the packing house at Porterville, which begins work Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fiss of Orange were callers in Paularino Monday evening.

A number of Paularino's young people attended the musical program given at junior high school in Santa Ana Monday evening. Those were Misses Vera, Mae Baker, Hazel Flint and Ralph, Best, Lyle Flint.
Mr. and Mrs. Emerson spent Monday evening in Santa Ana.
Mr. and Mrs. Flint, Neva, Mr. and Mrs. Fiss of Orange, were callers at the W. S. Babbs home Monday.

Radio Patents

Patents on 200 radio devices, invented by John Hays Hammond Jr. are sold to the Radio corporation and the big telephone company.
One of them is said to be a device that eliminates static interference and the "bubbling" of Morse code on wireless telephonic conversations.
When 200 new radio patents change hands, you wonder how long it will be until present radio devices will be obsolete. All will change. Once the wireless bug used coherers and de-coherers. How many radio fans now know what the words even mean?

DESPONDENT GIRL SUICIDE
LONG BEACH, Calif., March 30.—Miss Elizabeth F. Eppelien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Eppelien, 1475 Humboldt street, Denver, Colo., shot and killed herself on the roof of a local apartment house this morning. Ill health is believed to have been the cause.

BOND PAYMENTS IN APRIL $64,809,970

Corporation bonds maturing in April aggregate a fairly large amount, with industrial issues leading the list. The total of public utility, industrial, and railroad issues falling due within the month is $64,809,970, as compared with $29,465,160 in March, and $33,379,375 in April, 1922.
The largest single maturity is $10,862,000 Lackawanna Steel convertible 5 per cent bonds, due April 1. These are to be paid off from the proceeds of a sale of bonds by the Bethlehem Steel company, which has been merged with the Lackawanna Steel company. Another large industrial issue, also maturing April 1, is $10,000,000 John Wanamaker first 5 per cent bonds.

Public utility bonds falling due in April total $23,789,500, of which the largest item is $6,696,000 Tri-City Railway & Light 5 per cent bonds, maturing April 1. The Detroit United company will pay off $4,500,000 7 per cent notes on the 1st.
Railroad maturities for the month are unusually light and are principally equipment trust issues, the largest being $2,415,000 New York Central 7s of 1920, due April 15.

SEAL BEACH WELL TO BEGIN DRILLING AFTER LONG LAPSE

SEAL BEACH, March 30.—The Seal Beach oil company will resume drilling operations within a week, it is believed, and many stockholders here believe that oil will be found soon after the work is started again.

There has been a delay for some weeks at this well owing to inability to procure four-inch drill pipe. A couple of weeks ago a string of 300 feet was purchased for which the tool joints have been made at Brea. The company desired to be assured of at least 200 more feet of pipe before starting so that work can proceed without interruption. It is understood that this pipe is now also available and that drilling will be resumed upon the return of Secretary William Templeman from his trip to the northern part of the state, which will probably be the fore part of next week, perhaps sooner.

Encouraging Rumor.
There are many rumors in circulation in regard to the Shell well on the Susan Bryant lease. Some say that the showings do not reach expectations, but there are others who are in a far better position to know, who say that a well is ready to be brought in and that the Shell company is taking a lease on a large tract of ground nearby.
The long looked for drill pipe has been received at the Shell well and drilling operations have been resumed at 4300 feet.

The Dabney Well.
The H. R. Dabney well seems to be standing still this week. There are some who say that Mr. Dabney is sitting tight that others may develop the field for him. The gas blowout at this well a few weeks ago is considered by all oil men a sure indication of a paying field.

BETTER SERVICE TO BEACH IS PROMISED BY STAGE OFFICIAL

LONG BEACH, March 30.—Earlier bus service into Long Beach from Santa Ana, Fullerton, Anaheim and other Orange county points has been promised by the Crown Stage lines, according to a report made to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning, by Secretary R. O. Baldwin of the Merchants' division.
It is said the number of oil workers who came into Long Beach each morning from outside points as well as the growth of the city in other ways makes additional bus service advisable.

TREASURY REPORTS PER CAPITAL WEALTH ON MARCH 1 $41.61

Gold coin and bullion held in United States treasury March 1, totaled $3,980,955,432, compared with $3,937,561,887 February 1, $3,933,475,615 January 1, $3,858,548,202 September 1, 1922, and $3,720,755,655 on March 1, 1922.
The treasury statement as of March 1, 1923, shows money in circulation totaled $4,610,636,668, or $41.61 per capita, compared with $4,509,518,000, or $40.74 per capita February 1, $4,732,898,991 or $42.81 January 1, 1923, and $4,393,506,927 or $39.93 per capita September 1, 1922.

"The Best Glass"

REASONS

1. Our melting furnaces are the largest in the world and produce perfectly melted glass. "The BEST Glass."
2. Our improved mechanical process of drawing and blowing gives our glass greater tensile strength and higher modulus of rupture than any other window glass, plate glass, or rolled glass. "The BEST Glass."
3. Our latest improvements in our blowing machines enable us to produce absolutely perfect cylinders, which make it possible to secure the best flattening ever obtained. "The BEST Glass."
4. Our new method of flattening gives our glass a perfectly smooth surface, and a brilliant polish, unequalled by any other window glass. "The BEST Glass."
5. Our glass has less wave than other glass, and consequently shows less distortion. "The BEST Glass."
6. Our glass is uniformly flat; it contains no reverse curves. "The BEST Glass."
7. Our glass is uniform in thickness. "The BEST Glass."
8. Our glass is perfectly annealed and therefore does not break as easily as poorly annealed glass. "The BEST Glass."
9. Our glass is washed and thoroughly cleaned in an acid bath, which prevents discoloration and permits ready detection of defects. "The BEST Glass."

IMPROVEMENTS ARE VOTED AT BEACH CITY

Appreciating the fact that every possible convenience should be afforded the thousands of summer visitors who flock to the beaches, Newport voters today were on record as favoring a number of propositions designed to improve the beach cities.

Chief among the measures carried at yesterday's election was the proposition to spend $10,000 to build a comfort station at the approach to the new pier at Newport. The vote was, yes, 236; no, 107.

Similar improvements, to cost $8,000, were authorized by the voters for Balboa. The vote stood, yes, 246; no, 103.

By a vote of 257 to 112, the beach city voters authorized the erection of a jail at Newport, to cost $7,000.

At the same time the voters approved the project to spend $2500 in the erection of a comfort station at East Newport. The vote was, yes, 250; no, 99.

The proposition to spend $3,000 for similar improvements at West Newport failed. The vote was, yes, 226; no, 115.

Park improvements, to cost $4100, failed to receive the endorsement of the voters. The vote on this proposition stood, yes, 132, no, 156.

The voters also declined to authorize the expenditure of $2000 to build a fire station at Balboa. The vote was, yes, 219; no, 124.

Y CHARTER DINNER PLANS ARE RUSHED

Reservations were being made today by charter members of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. for the charter dinner and first meeting of the organization at the Spurgeon Memorial church, corner of Church street and Broadway, Tuesday at 6:30 p. m., F. C. Blauer, secretary of the S. A. Y., announced today.

Expectation of the presence of the state chairman and the state secretary of the organization as guests of the evening has added interest to the affair, Blauer said. Alex Brownridge, chairman of the membership committee of the S. A. Y., reported that 156 men were entitled to the charter membership card issued at the close of the recent campaign.

WHERE IS BARD WHO CAN SING YOUNG MAN WITH FIRST HAY HAT?

Bards have sung the praises of men who faced Teutonic shrapnel in Flanders, but—

Never a poet has composed a line in praise of the man who wears the season's first straw hat on Fourth street, Santa Ana, or Main street, Anytown.

So this story is a eulogy. It is a few words of frank admiration for the dapper young man, who braved a myriad of curious glances, ignored the countless whimsical smiles, and turned a deaf ear to the titters and gurgles of amusement.

Yep, boys, it was an honest to goodness straw bonnet, iridescent in its pristine glory; resplendent beneath the rays of a bright spring sun.

This man who was unafraid in the face of an army of smiling faces, is nominated herewith, to the hall of fame.

The male population of Orange county joins in a mighty roar of acclamation.

HOT KIDNAPING CASE 'CLUE' IS EXPLODED

Hundreds of persons who were combing the outskirts of Southern California cities and towns for trace of Dickie Jensen, 5, and Dean Meechan, 4, who were kidnaped from San Bernardino, continued in their search today, after reports of the boys' presence in Santa Ana canyon last night had been disproved.

About 8:15 p. m. yesterday, Sheriff Sam Jernigan received a communication from the sheriff of San Bernardino county, who said that a woman had seen the two boys, camped with an elderly man, in upper Santa Ana canyon near the Riverside county line.

Jernigan and Deputy G. E. McClellan made a flying trip to the place described by the woman, but found that the two boys were sons of J. L. Choate, who operates a service station there.

DRAINAGE AREA ELECTION TO BE HELD

Residents of the section concerned were today preparing to go to the polls tomorrow to express themselves as to whether what is proposed to be called the Newhope drainage district shall be formed. The polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Three divisions have been designated for purposes of the election.

In Division No. 1, the polling place will be at the residence of H. H. Lewis, corner of Westminster and Buena roads. Election officers there will be T. M. Barnett and Lee Hoff, judges; William H. Stennett and A. O. Carmichael, inspectors, and Mrs. H. H. Lewis and Virgil E. Brown, clerks.

In Division No. 2, the polling place will be at the residence of Henry C. Kester on First street, the first house west of the Newhope road. The officers will be Henry C. Kester and F. H. Finney, judges; W. O. Eades and Sylvester Summers, inspectors; and Mrs. Isadore S. Finney and Curtis H. Hickman, clerks.

In Division No. 3, the polling place will be at the Newhope school house. The officers will be J. W. Martin and William Lenhardt, judges; John Martin Jr. and S. L. Garner, inspectors; and Alvin W. Lewis and Mrs. S. L. Garner, clerks.

Directors are also to be elected, one for each division.

MOTHER OF TWELVE
CALLAWAY, Neb., March 23.—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whaley living a few miles west of here. This is the twelfth child born to them. All are living. The oldest child is married and has a daughter. Mrs. Whaley is 39 years of age.

Political Statement

Z. B. WEST JR.
With careful university and law college training and two years of legal practice, Z. B. West Jr. is looked upon by his friends as especially well equipped for handling the legal work of the city of Santa Ana. West is a candidate for city attorney, and his name will appear upon the ballot at the city election April 9.

After graduating from Santa Ana high school, West entered Stanford university, where he took the regular four-year college course, which included three years of academic studies and one year of law. After receiving his college degree, West continued his studies in the Stanford Law school, recognized as one of the strongest law schools in the West, and after two years' study devoted entirely to law he graduated from the school, having taken the full law course offered by the school, with special attention being paid by him to municipal law.

His college course was interrupted by two years of army service, most of it in overseas duty. Admitted to the bar, West practiced law in Los Angeles, then came to Santa Ana, where he has followed his profession. He is known to be exceptionally careful and accurate in his drawing up of legal papers, which is a legal qualification of highest value in the work of a city attorney.

LIQUOR RAID
SPALDING, Neb., March 23.—Last night Sheriff Gallagher and two deputies from Greeley raided several homes in town. At the home of O. Cave a still was found. Cave and Clyde McGuire were arrested. The place of Ash Housington who pleaded guilty some time ago to having violated the liquor law, was also raided and he and his wife with the others were taken to Greeley.

HARDING SEEKS NEW WAY OUT OF SHIPPING

(By United Press Leased Wire)
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 30.—A concrete plan to stop losses of the shipping board and stimulate the American merchant marine will be taken up by the cabinet as soon as President Harding returns to Washington.

This plan—to be taken in view of the failure of the ship subsidy bill in the expiring congress—is to take the government entirely out of the ship business, it was learned today.

The government would sell its huge fleet of ships on the following conditions:
1—An agreement by private buyers to keep necessary routes of trade open.
2—Point out to buyers the routes most fertile in prospects which would not hurt trade conditions at present.

3—Willingness of the operators to develop new markets and routes. This plan is understood to have been prepared for submission to the cabinet and the shipping board after conferences between Chairman Lasker of the board and the President.

Under its provisions as outlined to the United Press the government would retain its power to take over the ships in a war emergency.

TURKEY PRICES UP
DEORAH, Ia., March 29.—Local market men say that never in the history of the country was the prospect for a big turkey crop next fall as good as at the present time. The high prices of turkeys last fall has started all of the farmers and never were so many hen turkeys on the farms as this spring. Last fall very few of the hen turkeys were sold; those that were sold were the old ones.

COUNTY BAKERS TO ASK MORE FOR BREAD

ANAHEIM, March 29.—After maintaining a low price for bread during the last year and a half, during which time the prices of ingredients have increased as much as 50 per cent in some instances, bakers of Anaheim and other Orange county cities will next Monday boost the price to 12 cents, it was learned here today after the bakers had been in conference. Several bakers in the county have advanced the price of the ordinary sized loaf from 10 to 12 cents since the first of the week, but according to information obtained from unusually reliable sources today, the boost in price will be general on April 1.

Bakers in Fullerton advanced the price of their product to 12 cents two weeks ago. Prices in San Diego, Riverside and San Bernardino counties have been 12 cents since February 1. Prices north of Bakersfield have been 12 and 13 cents since January 1. In San Francisco the housewife has been paying 13 and 14 cents a loaf and in Portland and the Northwest the prices have been 14 and 15 cents on quality products.

A comparison of prices of the ingredients shows a large increase since November 15 of last year. The following table prepared by an Anaheim baker revealed these increases:

May's Wonderful Remedy, I am enjoying good health again. I know of a millionaire who is very bad with stomach trouble, but he won't take any patent medicine. In his present condition I wouldn't exchange with him." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists.

cents a loaf. Although the amount of the proposed increase in price was not made public officially, it is understood that the price will be 12 cents a loaf after April 1.

COLLEGE FRIENDS ARE ENTERTAINED

PLACENTIA, March 30.—Mrs. Charles E. Fuller of North Bradford street entertained college day friends, Mrs. Weik and Miss Joseph of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Wellington Irvin and her daughter, Josephine, of Redlands.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fourman and daughter, Florence, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cober were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilson at Long Beach Tuesday, the wedding anniversary of the Cober's.

No. You've got it wrong. But we have these crutches that call for an explanation. We have them not quite so long as the regular ones and when some of the younger ladies see them, they think they are too short. Therefore the need of crutches. But say! We are showing a few that are so long that you have to walk on stilts to keep from dragging them on the sidewalk. Really if you care to wear the very latest you will see them at Gift & Art Shop.

and also Mrs. Wilson's birthday anniversary. The women were down for the whole day, the men following in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were formerly residents of Placentia and this event has come to be an annual affair which is looked forward to with delight by all the members of the gay party whose friendships are of many years standing.

Mrs. Charles E. Fuller was at a luncheon Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Herbert Rankin, Santa Ana. Clifford Tobin of Beaver Crossing, Neb., has been visiting Charles Petty Jr. recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Monroe went to Bakersfield Saturday to visit Mrs. Monroe's mother, Mrs. H. P. Bender. Mr. Monroe returned Tuesday, but Mrs. Monroe will stay the rest of the week. Then they will all go to Brawley to visit Mrs. McEvoy over the Easter vacation.

Mrs. A. A. Halber, of Whittier, who is staying with her son, C. E. Halber, during the illness of Mrs. W. A. Aspenden of Bell is nursing them both.

A party recently at Laguna Beach picnic included Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson, and Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Trendel, N. Anderson, and Miss Anna Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Y. Anderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrade of Anaheim.

Mrs. Arthur Anderson and daughter, Miss Virginia, will go to Lindsay next week to visit Mrs. C. L. Freilich.

Mrs. R. W. Cole left Monday morning for her former home in Ontario, Canada. Mrs. Cole came here a year ago, a bride. Her husband died.

PLACENTIA LIBRARY TRUSTEES GET DEED
PLACENTIA, March 30.—The library board of trustees has at last secured the deed of the property which has been in escrow for several months since the deal was closed and will now proceed with plans for building.
A good deal of interest is being shown in this future addition of the town. Many are expressing their approval of the board's decision to build a library that will be a credit to the district now and for future years.

WOMEN SHOULD ACT QUICKLY
When a woman finds herself afflicted with backache, headaches, nervousness, dragging-down pains, pain in her side, irregularities and irritability, dark circles appear under the eyes and her complexion gets sallow, she may be sure the underlying cause is some ailment peculiar to her sex. Such women should act quickly and take the great American remedy for such conditions, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they may be saved years of suffering. For generations this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring ailing women to health, and it may be relied upon with perfect confidence.

BOND ISSUE TO PROVIDE BIG CITY PARK PROPOSED

Public Improvements Committee of C. of C. Urges Step Be Taken

FAVORABLE VOTE SEEN

Say Sentiment Strongly In Favor of Additional Recreation Grounds

Visualizing a city park of thirty or forty or more acres, the public improvements committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce has recommended to that body that during the coming year its best efforts be put forth to secure the submission of bonds for a large city park, it was learned today.

The recommendation of the public improvements committee has been received by the Chamber of Commerce from the committee secretary, D. K. Hammond.

Other members of the committee are T. E. Stephenson, chairman; W. D. Baker, N. A. Berry and H. H. Dale.

Members of the committee stated their belief that there is a very strong and growing sentiment in Santa Ana in favor of a park of considerable acreage, on which eventually recreation grounds could be established.

It was pointed out that the park need not be developed immediately in its entirety, but that once the city gets possession of the property the improvements can be made as finances and demands warrant.

Believe Voters Favorable

The consensus of opinion expressed at the committee meeting was that the voters of Santa Ana would vote bonds for a good park. The recommendation to the Chamber of Commerce suggesting that the Chamber of Commerce get behind the project with a view to getting the city council to submit bonds within the next year will probably be discussed at the next meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, it was stated.

OUTDOOR EXERCISE COMPLEXION AID DECLARES BEAUTY

VIRGINIA LEE PERRY.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30.

After having viewed at close range Virginia Lee Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perry, Kansas City, Washington society is willing to admit that Kansas City knows beauty when it sees it.

Miss Perry is here with her parents and she has been prominent at social functions.

In a recent beauty contest at Kansas City, Miss Perry was returned winner by an overwhelming majority. She is a brunette and has large, brown eyes. She attributes her beautiful complexion to outdoor activities.

"Plenty of exercise, such as golf, tennis and bathing," Miss Perry declared, "will aid rather than harm a girl's complexion."

CANYON CABIN PERMITS PLAN QUESTIONED

Forest Service Policy If Carried Out Would Hit Public, Says Warden

Calling into question the advisability of the federal forest service granting cabin permits in the Santa Ana mountains, County Fire Warden W. E. Adkinson today pointed out that the carrying of the cabin permit idea to its logical conclusion would result in shutting off the public from use of a large portion of the Trabuco canyon.

"When the proposal that cabins be placed in the Trabuco was first brought up," said Adkinson, "we all thought it was a fine thing, but many men and women who go into the mountains on short trips of a day or two are thinking otherwise. Regardless of my own views in the matter, I'd like to have the people of Orange county think this matter over."

"So far only a few cabins have been built in the Trabuco. Quite a number of permits have been granted that have not been exercised."

More Lots Demanded

"Recently there came a demand on the forest service for more cabin lots, and, I understand, some additional lots were laid out. Soon these will be taken. Then there will be a demand for more. Suppose that thing keeps up, what will become of our canyon? Where will the man with his little flivver and his wife and his children go to find a spot where they can park under an oak tree and feel at ease and not like trespassers on somebody's cabin lot? This man with his flivver and his family is entitled to consideration."

"Another thing that I want people of Orange county to be thinking about in this regard, is this: Virtually all of the cabin permits have been taken by residents of Long Beach or some other place outside the county."

Visit Various Spots

"Residents of Orange county seem to get their greatest enjoyment in going first to one spot in the canyon, then another. They are used to getting back into the hills often. They don't feel the need of cabins. But they enjoy the canyon just as much as or more than anybody. And, as many persons have expressed it to me in the Trabuco recently, they don't like to see the best part of the canyon taken up with cabin lots that may be used by the permit holders on an average of about one day a month."

Adkinson said that recently an autoist told him in the Trabuco that a few years ago he used to run into the canyons of the Sierra Madre mountains for frequent over-night camps.

Feels Crowded Out

"Now that the best parts of those canyons are all built up with cabins, he feels that he has been crowded out," the warden declared.

Adkinson added that he would like to have this matter discussed by the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations here. If it is thought desirable, expressions of opinion may be sent to the forest service through the office of Forest Supervisor Bouldin, Cleveland National Forest, San Diego.

Fullerton Calls for More Ballots

Anticipating a heated election with a record number of voters, election officers of the Fullerton school district requested additional supplies and ballots from R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent today.

Each school district is an individual election district. Mitchell explained, commenting on his relation to the trustees battles in progress today.

"The trustees elect their own officers for the school election," he said. "They designate, within the limits of the law, the hours of the polling and all matters relative to the election in their district. The law allows them ten days in which to file returns with this office following the election."

TRANSFER INTERESTS IN PETROL PROSPECTS

Whatever oil prospects there are in the low foothills and rolling lands at the mouth of the Santiago canyon leased in February, 1920, by M. J. Monnette, of Los Angeles, to the Orange County Petroleum company and the Owners' Oil Producing company now belong to the Reliable Oil company. Documents transferring the property have been placed on record. The tools, equipment, machinery and casing in the well to the south of the road at the top of the hill on the Villa Park-county park road are quit claimed to the Reliable Oil company. Just why the transfer has been made and what the plans of the new owners are was not learned.

S. A. CHURCHES SHAPE EASTER MUSIC PLANS

Fine Numbers Will Be Offered In Connection With Services

Santa Ana church, widely known for the excellence of their musical programs, will offer some exceptionally fine numbers in connection with Easter services here, it was disclosed today.

At the First Christian church, where scores of trained voices will be lifted in songs of praise, the morning service is scheduled to start 10:45, with Dudley Buck's "King All Glorious." Thirty or forty voices will blend in this stirring anthem, with William Gallienne singing the solo part.

Basing his text upon Christ's emergence from the tomb, the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the church, will elaborate upon the Savior's expression, "Touch Me Not," and will discuss the underlying significance of the miracle of the sepulcher. The evening service will be given over to Dubois's beautiful cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ."

Here Are Soloists

Soloists for the cantata will include Hazel Landers Hummel and Lillian F. Mayer, sopranos, and Edward J. Hummel, baritone. Special musical numbers have been arranged, with Mrs. Ethel Thompson at the piano and Miss Carrie Seaton at the organ.

Beautiful and impressive ceremonies will mark the observance of Easter at the First Presbyterian church, according to an announcement made by the Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor, here, today.

The morning service at this church will be featured by Ross's singing solo, "Easter Morn," which will be sung by A. J. Garro-way; Salter's anthem, "The Strife is O'er," and Woelke's solo, "The Lord of Life," featuring M. R. Newman.

Evening services at this church will be featured by violin solos, duets, and other musical numbers. The program includes Granier's Hosanna; the anthem, "Christ is Risen," and several special selections. Elwood Bear, violinist, will play Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," and Robert L. Brown will sing Knapp's "Open the Gates." A duet, "The Conqueror," by Coombs, will be sung by Robert L. Brown and A. J. Garro-way.

At Messiah Church

The Easter program at the Church of the Messiah, Episcopal, will begin at 11 a. m., with an organ prelude, followed by hymn No. 157. Other special musical features include "Christ Our Pass-over," by Shilling; the anthem, "Break Forth Into Joy," by Barnby; hymn 173; "Gloria in Excelsis," and several solos, featuring Mrs. Walter Leecraft, soprano; Fred Wilde, tenor, and W. C. Vieira, basso. Organ accompaniments will be played by Miss Mabel Krause.

The 11 a. m. Easter service at the First Methodist church will be featured by the processional, "I Am He that Liveth," by Scott; solos by Mrs. Rose Price; Granier's "Hosanna," and other numbers.

At the evening service, at 7 p. m., there will be a solo by Ruth Bowen, an anthem by the mixed choir, and a cantata, "Jesus and the Women," by Paul Bliss, will be featured at the evening service. Forty voices will join in singing the cantata.

Appropriate musical programs have been arranged for all the churches in Santa Ana and vicinity.

PROGRAM AT BEACH PLEASES STUDENTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 30.—Who had the best time, entertainers or the entertained? When the Santa Ana high school student body sent a program to the local high school Wednesday morning the beach students received their guest entertainers with a royal welcome and greeted their numbers with hearty applause.

Under the direction of Elmer Worthy of the Santa Ana High School faculty the following program was presented at the high school: violin duet, Leon Gardner, Jack Langley; boys' quartette, Jack Langley, Paul Brown, Leon Gardner and Carl Opp; girls' trio, Buelah Ellis, Mary Ellis and Velma Freburg; piano solo, Russell Rowland, who also accompanied all of the musical numbers except the girls' trio which was accompanied by Dorothy Hurd; French play by Maxine Wilson, Overton Luhn, George Morton, Vincent Chamberlain, Ivan Swanger and Eleanor Adams; vocal solo, Robert Bradford; readings, Ivan Swanger; sophomore skit with Robert O'Brien, Ivan Swanger, James Golstrap, Charles Gray, Albert Sheets and Lloyd Young.

The final number, one which caused much appreciative applause from the Huntington Beach students, was a group of songs by the Santa Ana boys' glee club.

The exchange of assembly programs is considered an important step in promoting good spirit among the schools of the county and also is considered by school heads as an excellent way to pass around the student talent.

WORLD-FAMOUS QUARTETTE TO APPEAR HERE

"The Flonzaley quartette is generally looked upon as the greatest string quartette in the world."

Clarence Gustlin, president of the Santa Ana Musical association, emphasized this statement here today, as he reiterated the fact that the Flonzaleys would appear at the high school auditorium on the night of April 6, as a feature of the State Federation of Music clubs convention, opening in Santa Ana, April 4.

"A Washington writer," Gustlin continued, "describes the Flonzaley quartette as 'a quartet of band of musicians, men with earnest faces and more than an average intensity of feeling.'"

"Next to their playing, the personal appearance of the Flonzaleys will be a feature of the convention."

ANNUAL EASTER MORN SERVICE TO FOLLOW BEAUTIFUL PROGRAM

Name Rev. W. E. Roberts to Deliver Sermon Sunday at Marcy Heights

HUNDREDS TO ATTEND

Many Cities In County to Commemorate Christ's Resurrection

Uniting their voices in songs of praise, hundreds of Orange county residents next Sunday will journey to Marcy Heights, Laguna Beach, Huntington Beach and other advantageous points, where impressive sunrise services will be held Easter morning.

Following a beautiful custom established in Santa Ana by Endeavor societies several years ago, ministers and church leaders of this city will play prominent parts in the Marcy Heights services, scheduled to begin promptly at 5:45 a. m.

At virtually the same hour worshippers in Huntington Beach, Laguna Beach, Fullerton, Yorba Linda and other Orange county cities will throw themselves wholeheartedly into similar ceremonies.

"On Marcy Heights," said the Rev. F. T. Porter, chairman of the committee on arrangements, "all is in readiness for the Sunday services, which will be exceptionally beautiful."

Plan Xylophone Duet

"Services, beginning at sunrise, will be opened with a xylophone duet, 'In the Garden,' by Lizetta Phillips and Merle Ramsey. This will be followed by a violin selection, 'An Old Refrain,' by Elwood Bear, trombone solos by Mrs. Ethel Thompson and duets by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hummel.

"The Scripture reading will be by the Rev. W. S. McDougal, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Tustin. Prayer will be offered by the Rev. H. G. Burgess, pastor of the Richmond Avenue Methodist church of Santa Ana.

"The Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will deliver the sermon on the mountain. His theme will be 'Easter Dawn.'"

Basing his text on the twenty-eighth chapter of St. Matthew's, the Rev. Mr. Roberts, who recently succeeded the Rev. J. A. Stev-

leys never fails to create comment wherever concerts are given by these unique musicians who in ten years have set new standards for quartette-playing and stirred up an interest in chamber-music that now makes it popular from one end of the country to the other.
"A glance at the members of the quartette is sufficient to impress one with the fact that they are men of unusual mental and artistic attainments. Adolfo Betti, first violin; Alfred Pochoon, second violin; Iwan d'Archembeau, cello, and Ugo Afa, viola, represent the highest type of the true musician.
"The Flonzaleys have never courted public favor. A world-wide following has come without resorting to noisy exploitation. Scorning sensational methods of making themselves known, the Flonzaleys have become familiar to music-lovers from Maine to California. One reason is that they have a working standard to which they rigidly adhere.
Plan Few Programs
"Only two or three programs, comprising at the most twelve compositions, are prepared each season, so that study of each work may be carried to the finest detail of understanding and performance. The four virtuosos have cultivated a personal and musical intimacy that makes for absolute sympathy in the interpretation of a composition. They never allow themselves to be overtaken by too many performances a week or by too long railroad trips before a performance. There are many other respects in which the Flonzaleys differ from other chamber-music bodies. Their agreement to abjure teaching and individual engagements means that the entire time of each member is consecrated to the study and interpretation of chamber-music."

EASTER SERVICE TO FOLLOW PROGRAM

enson as pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will touch on Christ's resurrection and lay particular stress on the moment of glory when Mary felt the full significance of the miracle of the tomb.
Come to See Tomb
"In the end of the Sabbath, as is begun to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.
"And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.
"His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.
"And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.
"And the angel answered and said unto the women, fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.
"He is not here, for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.
"Go and tell to his brethren.
"Co-operating with Roland Dye, Orange county scout executive, the Rev. Mr. Porter, representing the Santa Ana Ministerial association, today completed arrangements for active participation by Boy Scouts in the sunrise service on Marcy Heights.
"On Mount Rubidoux, near Riverside, said the Rev. Mr. Porter, it has been found by Frank A. Miller and others who have sponsored the beautiful sunrise services, there on Easter that the services of the Boy Scouts have been invaluable in assisting the authorities in handling the crowd. With flashlights and other accessories, the boys guide the early pilgrims aright and make themselves generally useful, as Boy Scouts invariably are. We hope to avail ourselves of the valuable assistance of the boys in similar work here."

SOLONS' PARTY FOLK LIKE ST. ANN'S SO WELL THEY COME BACK
Congressman and Mrs. E. C. Littlejohn of Kansas City, Kan., are staying at St. Ann's Inn, taking a "well earned rest" after the strenuous days they spent as members of the congressional party that visited here recently.
Following the disbanding of the congressional party, Congressman Littlejohn told G. A. Schweiger, manager of the Inn, that he and Mrs. Littlejohn decided that the most restful and thoroughly comfortable spot they had visited while on tour was St. Ann's Inn. They expect to remain here until tomorrow, whereupon they will return to Kansas City, it was understood.

Salerno. On their way they encounter a band of pilgrims, with whom is Lucifer, in the garb of a friar. He also is journeying to Salerno.
Received By Lucifer
"On reaching their destination, Prince Henry and Elsie are received by Lucifer, who has assumed the form of Friar Angelo, a doctor of the medical school. Elsie persists in her resolve to die, despite the opposition of the Prince, who now declares that he intended to do no more than test her constancy. Lucifer draws Elsie into an inner chamber, but the Prince and attendants, breaking down the door, rescue her at the last moment.
"Miraculously healed, Prince Henry marries the devoted maiden and is restored to his rightful place.
The six scenes of the cantata illustrate passages in the foregoing story. In the prologue, the defeat of Lucifer is foreshadowed by an impotent attempt to wreck the Cathedral of Strassburg. In the Epilogue, the benediction of Elsie is compared to the course of a mountain brook, which cools and fertilizes the arid plain."

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.
YOST—"Broken Chains," with Colleen Moore.
WEST END—"The New Moon," with Norma Talmadge and "Handle With Care," with Grace Darmond.
TEMPLE—"Suzanna," with Mabel Normand.
PRINCESS—"When Danger Smiles," with William Duncan.
"WHEN DANGER SMILES" AT PRINCESS.
There is a subtle appeal about "When Danger Smiles," now showing at the Princess, which is not easily explained. The picture is one of the West and presents William Duncan in a rollicking, dashing, youthful type of hero seeking adventure. A blow in the head dazes him so that his memory is not clear at times; but no danger troubles him. In fact after viewing five reels the spectator is rather inclined to believe that this dashing hero rather enjoys courting danger. He runs into it and out again without the least concern, always confident that he will come out victorious.
The character portrayed by Duncan, Ray Chapman, is as full of strategy as an old world diplomat and the way he squirms out of a small corner would do credit to a hand-cuff king. With all these escapes and strategic moves the entire story is logical and blends itself into a page of life against a background of the West. Into this background is woven the atmosphere of the Spanish settlers and the cowpunchers on the ranges. This atmosphere is brought out in selective night sequences which center around a dance at the district school.
"BROKEN CHAINS" OPENS AT YOST TONIGHT.
The motion picture that won the $10,000 prize in the scenario contest conducted by the Chicago Daily News, in which there were 82,000 entries will be seen tonight and tomorrow at the Yost theater.
It is called "Broken Chains" and was written by a previously unknown screen author, Miss Winifred Bryson of Apalachicola, Fla., and has been produced by Goldwyn, under the direction and personal supervision of Allen Holubar, one of the best known directors in the business.
Goldwyn gave the director a great cast in wholesome Colleen Moore, Malcolm McGregor, the New Jersey youth who renounced a million to become a film actor, Ernest Torrence, Claire Windsor, Beryl Mercer, James Marcus, William Orlamond, Gerald Prince, Edward Peil and Leo Willis.
"Broken Chains" is a story of regeneration of an eastern youth who proves a coward when suddenly confronted by danger in his Long Island home. To escape the odium that confronts him, he goes to his ranch in the Redwood district in California and there meets and falls in love with Mercy Boone, the pitiful young wife of a brutal giant who keeps her chained in his lonely cabin.
The youth champions the girl, even after having been brutally beaten up by her husband. He returns for a final conflict with Boone who meets his death in the trap he had set for the youthful champion. The picture is said to be most realistic and at the same time inspiring—a photoplay that appeals irresistibly to the heart and ranks high in the year's achievements on the screen.

WINIFRED BRYSON TAKES ROLE IN "SUZANNA."
A native daughter of California, Winifred Bryson personifies the character of Dolores, the beautiful Spanish-American character she portrays in Mack Sennett's latest and greatest feature photoplay, "Suzanna," now showing at the Temple theater.
Miss Bryson's first professional appearance was made in Los Angeles at the Belasco Stock theater, with Bert Lyell, in "The Regeneration." Then ensued a long career in stock with Jane Cowd, Marjorie Rameau, Dustin Farnum and many other stars. Later she essayed musical comedy. Her most recent stage experience was in "Lombardi, Ltd." Then came her debut in pictures in which she has wide experience and exceptional and popular success.
Miss Bryson is of a distinct Spanish type, olive-complexioned, black-haired, dark-eyed. These qualifications, plus her exceptional ability as an actress, makes her ideally suited for the important role she enacts in "Suzanna."
NORMA TALMADGE FILM AT WEST END.
"The New Moon," Norma Talmadge's latest Selznick Revival, in which Joseph M. Schenck presents this charming and versatile young star tonight at the West End theater, is a story of Russia and the fight its women are making for their freedom and their inherent right to live, how and with whom they choose. The revolutionists try to force the women in the town to become "naturalized"—that meaning that every woman between the ages of 18 and 45 becomes the property of the "state and must live with any man that desires her.
Norma Talmadge as the Princess who was forced to leave her castle when it was attacked by the anarchists, and who assumes the disguise of a peasant girl, leads the women to revolt and incites them to follow her example by refusing to register. It is a thrilling, absorbing picture with a tremendous theme.
"Handle With Care," a picture starring Grace Darmond, is offered by the West End management as a special added attraction.

YOUTH'S PROBATION REFUSED BY COURT
Denying the probation plea of Leonard Spurlock, 19, who had pleaded guilty to serious charges involving a young girl, Superior Judge R. Y. Williams today sentenced him to confinement in the Preston School of Industry at Ione until he reached his majority.
Spurlock was arrested by city police, as he and the young girl, in company with Carol Crabbs and Jesse Kirkpatrick, were returning from a "joy ride." It was shown, Kirkpatrick and Crabbs received probation on charges of contributing to the delinquency of the girl.

Don't delay fighting constipation with BRAN that is ALL BRAN!

When constipation flashes its signs of sickness into your eyes and cheeks; into your breath, your brain and your appetite, it is absolutely necessary that you head it off! Toxic poisoning stands close by; Bright's disease and other dangerous diseases await their turn!

The remedy that nature offers is the simplest and most effective—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, which is ALL BRAN! And it is ALL BRAN! It is ALL BRAN you need when you start to fight constipation. You can't afford to delay a minute and you can't afford to use half-way measures with foods that contain a percentage of bran! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran because it is not only effective, but because it is delicious. Why—you will like it!

Be certain to eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoons daily; in chronic cases with each meal. Results will prove astounding. Remember that Kellogg's Bran is nature's own regulator, which operates in nature's way—which is the best way!

Eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, sprinkled on other hot or cold cereals, or make it up into the best of muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, cookies, macaroons. Kellogg's Bran is printed on each package. Let the children eat Kellogg's Bran. It is wonderfully beneficial. It will improve their health just as it will really and truly make over men and women. The value of Kellogg's Bran cannot be overestimated. Sold universally by grocers.

ORANGE COUNTY NEWS

BIG PLUNGE AT ANAHEIM IS DISCUSSED

ANAHEIM, March 30.—City councilmen got their first glimpse of the plans for the swimming pool for the city park, as prepared by Architect M. Eugene Durfee and placed before the board at a special meeting here this week.

Plans call for a big pool, 50x150 feet, of sufficient length for standard swimming races by making two laps. Depth ranges from two and one-half feet to nine and one-half feet.

Greek Theater Background. It was roughly estimated last night that the plans would mean an outlay of about $30,000. This is considerably more than originally planned, but it includes a pergola for spectators about, three sides of the pool. The pergola is really a part of the Greek theater background so the cost should not be entirely placed against the plunge, the council was told.

The plans include lockers, dressing rooms and toilets sufficient to accommodate about 400 bathers at one time without doubling up. It does not include equipment to heat the water nor a filter plant, both of which are considered very essential.

Requirements Given. The state board of health requires 800 gallons of fresh water for each bath. To fill the plunge will require about 300,000 gallons of water which means that after 375 bathers have used the plunge, the water must be changed. This would be at least every day in May, June, July, August and September. At the domestic water rate, the 300,000 gallons for one filling of the pool would be about $40, a big expense to the city. The whole city is now using on an average about 1,000,000 gallons of water daily.

Representatives of a filter company stated that equipment could be furnished for about $3500. This would not include installation, pump, pipe, etc. With a filter, it would not require so much fuel for heating the water as the temperature would not be reduced during filtration. Such a filter plant would filter the water every ten hours.

The council believes that for at least 180 days of the year, the pool would be used by at least 10,000 bathers daily, or a total of 18,000 for the season. Three times this number used the Alhambra pool last season. However, it was pointed out, it is warmer at Alhambra and it is further from the bathing beaches than Anaheim. On the other hand, it is expected the Anaheim pool will attract bathers from Fullerton, Orange, Santa Ana and, in fact, nearly all of the county.

EASTER PROGRAM AT BEACH IS FINISHED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 30.—Arrangements were complete here today for the Easter sunrise services to be held at the end of the pier, which will begin at 5:40 o'clock.

The large floral cross has been constructed by the Boy Scouts. Gus Huschman will salute the dawn of Easter with his bugle and will lead the singing of Easter songs with his cornet. Sermons, short, will be given by Rev. James Hurst, pastor of the Christian church, and Rev. Luther Arthur, pastor of the Baptist church. Rev. Andrew W. Shamel, pastor of the Methodist church, will read the Scripture.

LAGUNA 'PHONE IS REPAIRED BY COMPANY

LAGUNA BEACH, March 30.—The telephone which has been out of order for several days, is once more in commission and Laguna is again in touch with the outside world.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Smith of Painesville, Ohio, and Miss Mary Allen and her brother, Robert Allen, of New York, were the guests of Mrs. Robert Evans Tuesday.

Mrs. Smith, who is a girlhood friend of Mrs. Evans, is the granddaughter of Elias Howe, inventor of the sewing machine and also a cousin of Clarence Day, the writer.

Mrs. Mary Austin Oliver, painter of roses, and her daughter, Miss Jean Oliver, are down from Los Angeles for a week at their cottage, "The Olive Branch." Miss Oliver is a musician and teaches in the Los Angeles schools.

Miss Frances Miller entertained with an Easter party at her newly finished cottage at Arch Beach, "Casa Contenta."

The guests were her neighbors, Miss Julie Raymond, Miss Edith Loop and her sister, Mrs. Brereton, from New York; Mrs. Karl Yens, Mrs. Anna M. Curtis and Miss Bennett, Miss Miller's aunt, Mr. and Mrs. How of Holt, who are spending three weeks at the Giordani apartments.

Jean Mannheim has gone up to Pasadena to spend a week with his family.

Miss Jessie Withers was in Laguna Wednesday from Pasadena with a party of friends among them Mr. and Mrs. Frost of Toronto, Canada.

Mrs. Leonard Fisher, Miss Leonard Fisher, Miss Nellie McGregor and Winifred Hesley, all of Los Angeles, were in Laguna this week.

Among Miss Washburn's recent visitors were Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Tucker, from Cleveland, O.; Mary Owen Franklin, Topeka, Kan.

Irene Coulter of Long Beach, William H. Hunter and Miss Marjorie Farrel Hunter of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Newport and Dr. E. O. Day are spending several weeks on the desert near Indio.

Miss Pauline Jahraus is spending a week with friends on the desert. Miss Jessie Washburn has returned from Los Angeles, where she has been for several days.

Miss Nona White, Pasadena artist, has been visiting her sister, Miss Emily White, at her Arch Beach studio.

Joe Choate of Los Angeles, is spending the Easter vacation with Conway Griffith.

R. A. Mosher of the Ventura Motor Oil Supply company of Santa Ana, was in Laguna Tuesday.

Mme. Ann Dare and Miss Davis are in Hollywood for several days.

Miss Annie Gayne Peake has also come to the city for a short time.

LAGUNA PIONEER PASSES SUDDENLY

LAGUNA BEACH, March 30.—Mrs. Frank M. Goff passed away at her home in Los Angeles very suddenly last week.

Mrs. Goff and her husband were among the first settlers of Laguna, living first on what is known now as the Goff Island tract, and later in the village of Laguna.

HOLD-UP STUNT NEAR VENTURA IS FAILURE

LAGUNA BEACH, March 30.—Mrs. N. E. West and Miss Florence Yoch have returned from a few days in Santa Barbara and Montecito. They had a somewhat thrilling experience on the highway between Santa Barbara and Ventura as they were driving home.

A car was drawn up at the side of the road and in it was a woman, shouting frantically and holding an apparently sick child.

They did not stop, however, but speeded up, intending to report the incident in Ventura and send some one back from there.

Three Men Appear. They had only gone a short distance when three Mexicans came out from the side of the road and started towards them, one with a sawed-off shotgun in his hand.

Mrs. West, who was driving, speeded up to sixty miles an hour, not being in Orange county, and headed for the men. They jumped aside and Mrs. West and Miss Yoch speeded on into Ventura to the police station.

Stunt Tried Before. They were old that they were the second to report the experience that night and that a party of officers were on their way to the scene then.

It was very evident that the woman and child were decoys to stop passing motorists for the three men to hold up.

OIL INDICATIONS AT HARDING CLAIMED

ANAHEIM, March 30.—The roving eyes of Orange county oil speculators and operators were today turned on Harding, a crossroads station a few miles from here. Reports today are to the effect that 500 acres of land has been leased there. An Oklahoma concern, it is reported, is to begin drilling within sixty days.

The Midway Petroleum company drilled at Harding sometime ago but the well was abandoned when it was declared that it could not be made a paying proposition, owing to terms in the contract, even if oil was struck.

THIRTY-ONE WELLS SPUDDEN IN DURING WEEK REPORTS SHOW

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 30.—Oil field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. E. Collom during the week ending March 24, 1923, show thirty-one new wells started, as compared with fifty-one during the previous week. The total new wells this year is 386, as compared with 294 the same date last year, according to reports received here.

Tests for water shut-off this week numbered forty-four, as compared with thirty-one during the previous week. Yearly total to date, 432; total to same date last year, 339.

Deepening or regrilling jobs this week numbered six, as compared with eighteen during the preceding week. Total to date this year, 180; total to same date last year, 184.

Abandonments this week numbered two, as compared with six during the preceding week. Total to date this year, fifty-three; total to same date last year, seventy-five.

GOOD DEMAND FOR SEAL BEACH HOMES

SEAL BEACH, March 30.—Mrs. Susan May and daughter Nellie have begun the erections of a bungalow court on Seventh street. A group of four buildings is now under construction and four more may be built in the near future. Renters are inquiring as to when the bungalows will be ready for occupancy.

Mrs. Mary J. Coffin of Hawthorne has placed an order with C. M. Conlee, general contractor, for the building of a house on her lot on Fourteenth street near Ocean avenue. Mr. Conlee is now engaged in finishing the Hammer house on the same street.

Great progress is being made by the Associated Oil company on the pumping station at Fifth street. Boilers are being placed, a large receiving oil tank under way, and work is being carried on twenty-four hours a day. The Snider property has been purchased by the oil company, leaving but one lot in the entire block not a part of the pipe line's property. G. H. Morrison, the local realtor, secured the property for the oil company.

B. B. Brown has Johnny Thomas and Dick Rogers putting up a three-room cottage on the rear of his lot on Seventh street.

Harry Wilson is filling in his lot on Fourteenth street in preparation for building.

Don't miss a chance to hear a DeForest Radiophone, McClay Ignition Works, 101 N. Main. Note: We will have a set at Witman's Confectionery, 410 N. Main, Saturday evening and Sunday.

GAMBLING RAID NETS SEVEN AT ORANGE

ORANGE, March 30.—Swooping down on a low rambling shack in the Mexican colony on North Cypress street, near Walnut avenue, local police, acting on a tip, Wednesday night battered their way into the house, placing seven Mexicans under arrest on charges of violating the city gambling laws.

Gathered around a dilapidated table, using boxes and chairs for seats, the men made no move to escape when the officers dashed into the dingy room.

A flickering candle, stuck on a silver dollar and placed in the center of the table furnished a dim light for the players, whose distorted silhouettes were cast in weird shadows on the paperless walls.

Three decks of cards and thirty five dollars in silver and currency were seized by the officers. No evidence was found that liquor had been used or was secreted in the place.

The men, entirely passive, were brought to the city hall last night when they appeared before City Recorder G. W. Ingle, and pleaded guilty to the gaming charges.

They gave their names as Genaro Villaloff, F. Hernandez, J. Chavez, Romulo Hernandez, Victorino Magdaleno, J. Magdaleno and Manuel Mayoral.

All save Mayoral, who police say is the ringleader, were liberated after paying fines amounting to $100 and sixty days suspended jail sentences.

Mayoral, however, was remanded to jail in lieu of the fine. Unless friends are successful in raising the funds by noon, he will be removed to the county jail, Santa Ana, where he will start serving a sixty day jail sentence.

What do you read in your newspaper?

See For Yourself

The Register's United Press telegraph operator, at work eight hours a day in the Register's editorial-news room, on the 2nd floor of the Register Building.

FRESH NEWS or "STALE" NEWS? ALL the NEWS or just "SOME" OF IT?

As you well know, newspapers publish news from all parts of the world. Some newspapers publish it immediately after it happens, others do not publish the same news until later, because they do not receive it as quickly; and some of them never publish it at all, it costs money to do so.

Do you know HOW newspapers get this news?

All NEWSPAPERS that believe that "Nothing is TOO GOOD for their readers" and who feel that they are duty bound to give ALL and the BEST prepared news to the subscribers of their papers, even though the cost is excessive in some cases,

HAVE A FULL LEASED TELEGRAPH WIRE COMING INTO THEIR EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT.

THAT means, that they have at their service a direct wire connection to all parts of the world, over which ALL news is sent AS SOON AS EVERYTHING HAPPENS.

This telegraph wire is in service all day and requires the whole attention of an operator.

The Register is the Only Newspaper in Orange County that has a Telegraph Wire coming into its editorial office bringing the full report of the United Press, the greatest news service in the world for Evening Papers

That is WHY the REGISTER is a BETTER Newspaper and that in turn is the reason why YOU should read it!

The United Press Costs More But It Is Better

THE REGISTER is the exclusive Santa Ana member of the UNITED PRESS, and the N. E. A. (The Newspaper Enterprise Association) because they are the BEST that can be bought.

The UNITED PRESS LEADS THE WORLD

THE UNITED PRESS is the world's largest agency devoted exclusively to the gathering and distributing of news.

THE UNITED PRESS serves more afternoon newspapers than any other news gathering organization in the world. It serves every evening paper in Southern California except the Santa Barbara News.

THE UNITED PRESS gathers the news itself—employs real Americans throughout the world to do the job, instead of exchanging news with other agencies, domestic or foreign.

UNITED PRESS NEWS wire service, through which the news of the day is interpreted by experts, is a super-service, numbering among its writers recognized authorities throughout the world, and through which the world's stories are written by men and women of first rank ability in their fields.

The War revealed what some of the Old World news gathering agencies were—venal, corrupt organizations, dominated by politics and finance, and made the pawns in the games of the war lords, the international financiers, the great captains of industry, the world gamblers.

That is why The United Press gathers its own foreign news, as well as the news of America, with its own men—REAL AMERICANS. Some of the Old World news gathering agencies doubtless are good; we know some were bad. The United Press takes no chances.

The result is that The United Press not only leads in the afternoon field, but by reason of its independent, unbiased character, by reason of the fact that it has no game to play except the gathering and distributing of news, its service is in demand and is published in every country in the world.

CALLS BOY SCOUTS TO TREASURE HUNT

A treasure hunt has been planned by T. P. McKee, community secretary of the S. A. Y., for the junior and intermediate boys of the local organization for tomorrow morning.

"Novel features," McKee explained, "have been arranged for the hunt, in which it is expected seventy or more boys will join. Leaving the 'Y' hut here at 9:30 a. m., each boy will be provided with written instructions telling him of the trail he must take in order to find the treasure. The boy first reaching the cache will receive the prize, while the remaining boys will be given a treat as their share of the spoils of the expedition.

"The treasure hunt will begin and end at the 'Y' hut."

Prizes of the hunt have been presented to the "Y" by Alex Brownbridge, Victor Walker, Ed McFadden, F. C. Blauer and W. H. James, according to McKee.

PETITION SIGNERS AT ORANGE FOUND TO BE REGISTERED

ORANGE, March 30.—A check of the signers of the petition to annex 100 acres west of the city to Orange revealed today that twenty-four of the names are those of registered voters. Only thirteen registered voters are necessary to call an election to vote on the annexation proposal. The election will be set by the city board next Tuesday afternoon.

Ex-Service Man Gains 24 lbs Taking Tanlac

John E. Hammond Declares Suffering from Wounds and Frayed Nerves, Wore him to Mere Shadow, but Famous Medicine Restored Him Completely.

If anyone has more cause than another to be glad they were induced to give Tanlac an honest trial it is surely John E. Hammond, 227 West 88th St., Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. Hammond, who is a member of the American Legion Post No. 1 and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 3, Los Angeles, states that after being confined in the hospital for three years he felt like he had just about served his time on this earth, but that by the help of Tanlac he has gained twenty-four pounds and feels as fine as he ever did. But let Mr. Hammond tell his story in his own words:

"Before taking Tanlac I felt like I had just about served my time on this earth. I was an overseas man, and came back home in terrible condition. I was operated on for appendicitis and also had shrapnel removed from my stomach, which took one hundred and forty stitches. I was in the hospital for three years and when I finally came out I was so thin and run down I weighed only one hundred and eighteen pounds. My nerves were shattered, I had awful dizzy spells, couldn't sleep, and could scarcely eat a bite.

"A friend of mine got such splendid results from Tanlac that he advised me to try it, and since I have taken the treatment for a few weeks I actually balance the scales at one hundred and forty-two pounds. I eat good, sleep good, can do anything now I could do before going overseas, and from my appearance one would never suspect my having been ill. Tanlac is the greatest medicine made, and I can't say enough for it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold.—Adv.

POLY FOLK PLAN RUBE DAY; HEAR CITIZENSHIP ADDRESS

Eureka! At last, after four years of wishing.

The high school is to have a rube day.

May 4, all day, will be rube day and many plans for freak costumes are being made by the students, who greeted the announcement of the coming event with thundering applause in the high school assembly yesterday afternoon.

Carl Black, president of the student body, in making the announcement, pledged the students to consider the day as an all-around good school spirit day and not as a ditch day nor an occasion for rowdiness. He placed the students on their honor to promote only the best interests of the school while holding the day of fun.

Talks on Citizenship For nearly half an hour the 1000 students of the high school listened to a stirring talk on citizenship, delivered by Col. H. T. Matthews, who is visiting in this city.

"The school, with all of its fine equipment, is but a great citizenship factory," said Col. Matthews, as he congratulated the students and the faculty upon the excellent work being done here.

"My mission here is to be a good citizen, and if I can say anything which will help you to be good citizens, I have performed my purpose in coming to you this afternoon."

Tells Ideals "To establish an ideal government is one thing, to maintain it is another. It is the responsibility of every individual citizen to help in the maintenance of the best form of government in the world."

"There are four things which promote good government, education, discipline, team work and patriotism. The government must function according to rules and the only people who can carry on a successful government are the disciplined people."

The speaker forcefully illustrated the necessity for discipline in all walks of life and indicated the essential quality of discipline in success of any kind.

Must Ever Strive "You can't get something for nothing," he said, "and the individual who will succeed is the one who is willing to submerge his own individuality in the law of the work in which he is engaged."

"Team work is co-ordinate effort, and any kind of team work means better citizenship."

"The kind of patriotism we need is not the kind that makes a man sing the national anthem loudly when someone is listening, or salute the flag when he is in a crowd, but the kind which will take every citizen to the polls every election day. The right kind of patriotism means honesty and eternal vigilance, in all the things that bring honor to the country."

Tells Responsibility "The responsibility of citizenship is equal for every man and woman. It cannot be passed on."

"Good citizenship means a combination of the factors I have cited, in the maintenance of the motto, 'one country, one language, one flag.'"

Col. Matthews' talk was followed by applause from the student body, which indicated the forceful effect the talk had had upon the students.

Conducted with snap and finish and a businesslike perfection, the showing of the Southern California Edison company's film feature was a delight to the students as well as a feature of great educational and informative value.

Comments after the assembly proclaimed the enthusiasm with which the students received the fascinating pictorial story of the tremendous development projects of hydro-electric power in the state.

Taken On Tour Within half an hour the students were taken on a tour of the hydro-electric development centers in Central and Southern California, into the high Sierras and through the passes in the mountains with pack trains and trucks of supplies and along the rivers and lakes whence comes the light and power of the whole southern part of the state.

The Edison company's film was said to be one of the finest features of the kind the students have ever seen and was made even more than usually interesting by the clear cut explanatory lecture by Walton G. Blossom, of the Edison company, who brought out some startling facts and figures.

how to write acceptable letters. "China Captive or Free?" by Gilbert Reid, is a stirring appeal for justice. It is the most complete discussion of China's foreign entanglement, and the attempt at her enslavement which has yet been published.

"Lady Butler, an Autobiography," is vivid and amusing, and her story of a life rich in experience and friendships is as worth the writing as it is the reading.

"Our Candy Recipes," by May Van Arsdale, gives simple and accurate recipes for making all the old and many of the new favorites. Recipes for large and small quantities are given in each case.

In "Out of the Night," F. O. Bartlett says, "It is we, the living, who make our dead so dead." Some facts, he believes, are inescapable, but that is not the end of the matter. The future of our dead, as far as we living are concerned, is largely in our own hands, he declares.

"Character Problems in Shakespeare's Plays," by Levin L. Schucking, is a fascinating book covering the whole range of Shakespeare's plays and giving a new understanding of his characters in the light of the latest knowledge.

"Every Day Uses of English," by M. H. Wesen, considers English as an every day tool. Every principle is discussed and illustrated from the point of view of its applicability to the practical problems of life.

"A Tree With a Bopk in It," (Margaret Widdemer). From Edwin Markham and A. S. Lowell to the newest candidates for the Youngest Choir, the poets of contemporary America are made to walk out under Mrs. Widdemer's pear-tree and chat in his own tongue to her Grackle.

"Denizens of the Desert," by Edmund C. Jaeger. Mr. Jaeger's accounts of road-runners, pack-rats, cactus wrens, and other mammals, make intensely interesting reading.

A biologist of Riverside, Calif., has made a life study of the desert and writes from intimate knowledge and with complete authority.

"Feeding, Diet and General Care of Children," by A. J. Bell, is a splendid book for mothers and nurses upon the principles for the prevention of disease.

"The Wandering Years," by Mrs. Katharine Tynan, deals particularly with events of the Irish Revolution. Her wide and intimate acquaintance with both Irish and English writers and social figures makes her book most interesting as well as of real historical value.

LOCAL LIBRARY COMMENTS ON NEW BOOKS

at the library along with numerous other new works, contains considerable curious and valuable information concerning the so-called "Sick Man of Europe."

The names of other books recently received here, and the publisher's comment on each follow:

"Listen To These," by F. L. Masson, is the third book of short stories and humorous anecdotes he has compiled, and while it isn't intended to produce loud laughter every story in it is worth while.

"Shackled Youth," by Edward Yeomans, is a plea for the more liberal tendencies in education which are expressed in a few secondary schools, but are unexpressed, yet stirring in the desires of every parent.

"The Crisis in Russia," by Arthur Ransome, tells what Lenin thinks about his own future, the "Saturdays," and what the granting of a constitution in Russia will mean as well as other things equally interesting.

"When You Write a Letter," by T. A. Clark, is the result of thirty years' experience in teaching high school and undergraduate pupils

What Four Great Writers Say of the Bible ITS WONDERFUL LITERARY AND MORAL VALUE

Maccabey Says: "If everything else in our language should perish, the Bible would alone suffice to show the whole extent of its beauty and power."

When Walter Scott Lay Dying, he said to his son-in-law "Lockhart, read me something from the Book." Lockhart asked, "What book?" Scott replied: "Why do you ask? There is but one Book—the Bible!"

Coleridge Says: "Intense study of the Bible will keep any writer from being vulgar in point of style."

John Richard Green Says: "As a mere literary monument the Bible remains the noblest language of the English tongue, while its perpetual use made it from the instant of its appearance, the standard of our language."

3 CITIES HAVE HOT BATTLES FOR BOARD

Orange county voters were going today to the polls to select school directors and in at least three cities hot fights were being waged with ballots. In others the situation was more or less quiet with little opposition being expressed to re-election candidates or those who aspire to places of retiring directors.

Huntington Beach, Fullerton and Anaheim were battlegrounds for factions. At the beach city W. L. McKenney, present member of the grammar school board, is opposed by Mrs. Blanche Gates, member of the Woman's club.

New Anaheim Candidates.
At Anaheim George W. Sloop, who is seeking re-election to the grammar school board, is opposed by J. L. Finley, said to be employed in the government postal service. A movement to write in the name of Herman J. Effer for the grammar school board and Fred Heying for the grammar school, to oppose Samuel Winters, was started suddenly yesterday and it is claimed gained considerable momentum before the campaign closed.

In Fullerton union high school district the candidates of W. J. Travers, present member of the board, and G. W. Finch, present member of the grammar school board seeking a place on the higher body, occupied the earnest attention of campaigners for the last week and a half.

Orange Districts Quiet.
In districts surrounding Orange there were no heated contests and the only upset of the hope that could occur, observers said, was in the possibility that "write in" candidates might draw unexpected support.

A. H. Mulvane is the only candidate for grammar school trustee in Orange running to succeed Elmer Haywood who will not seek the place again. C. A. Palmer of Olive is seeking a place on the Orange union high school board. M. Fayran is seeking the grammar school place at Olive.

Mrs. R. W. Jones is seeking re-election to the grammar school at Villa Park and John F. Allen of El Modena is seeking the place vacated by H. D. Nichols.

To take the place of Thomas McFadden on the grammar school board of Placentia D. D. Luzier, Leroy Lyons and G. F. Collins are candidates.

ASKS MILITARY COURT PROBE ARMY SCANDAL

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 30.—Capt. Edward H. Randle, who with his wife, has filed suit against Colonel Arthur L. Conger for $100,000 character damages, today demanded that a military court review the case.

Randle's petition for damages stated Colonel Conger has accused his wife of improper conduct on the occasion of several parties given at Randle's quarters.

REPAIRS PHONES

All available repair men of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company were busy in Orange county today making repairs to the telephone system made necessary by damage from the wind which prevailed the past two days.

The damage to lines was considerable, according to Manager E. S. Morrow, being mostly in the suburbs and outlying districts, where the full force of the wind was felt. It will take several days to return the entire system to normal, said Morrow.

PROMINENT ORANGE WOMAN DIES AFTER INFLUENZA ATTACK

ORANGE, March 30.—Mrs. Mary J. Hilyard, wife of W. H. Hilyard of 480 South Center street, was claimed by death about noon yesterday, a victim of double pneumonia, following an illness of one and a half weeks of the flu. Mrs. Hilyard had not been strong for months and was under the doctor's care, but her final illness was a short one.

Her husband was also in a critical condition with the flu yesterday but is some better today.
Percy Hilyard, one of her sons has been very ill with the flu and is out today for the first time because it seemed necessary, not because he was really able. Mrs. Hilyard's other son, Horace Hilyard, and wife, are both confined to their beds with the flu. A sister of Mrs. Hilyard lives in Bakersfield.

MUSICIANS PLAY FOR ORANGE HIGH PUPILS

BULL RUNS WILD
CLARENCE, Iowa, March 28.—Fred Debnar narrowly escaped being killed by a bull when he went to the barn to take the animal to water. As he walked along the partition the bull lunged at him, pinning him against the wall. One horn caught his clothing, passing through it and grazing his body, and tearing the flesh. After a hard fight he managed to get out of the barn, but fell in his attempt to reach the house and it was here where he was found by Mrs. Debnar.

CRIPPLING OF P. O. SERVICE AGAIN TOLD

Complaints against the mail service in Santa Ana continue to reach C. D. Overshiner, postmaster, every day, though he said he had endeavored to maintain the position of the Santa Ana post office and its ability to render service under the present circumstances. "We are doing our best," declared Overshiner, "to overcome the lack of funds. We are, however, crippled. Santa Ana is growing rapidly. Our post office allowance has grown comparatively little. At present, due to the exhaustion of certain appropriations and allowances, we are unable to pay any overtime to clerks or carriers. Nor may we work clerks or carriers overtime without paying them.

Reiterates Crisis. "This office has been dependent on the overtime allowance because of the lack of permanent help in sufficient numbers. Unless the auxiliary allowance for the last quarter of the fiscal year reaches here by Monday, we will be obliged to discontinue parcel post delivery from this office. Strangely enough, we have the money to keep the truck running, but no money to pay the driver." Overshiner drew attention to a recent bulletin issued by the postmaster general relative to conditions hampering the efficient working of the post office department and its offices throughout the country. It said:

Mail Volume Grows. "The constantly rising volume of mail in all sections of the country has gone beyond the expectation of the department, as well as the director of the budget and congress, so that appropriations available during this period are already reduced to a point where it is evident that economies must be practiced. It is the desire that these economies shall be made in such a wise as to occasion the least possible inconvenience to the public.

"This is a situation where it is imperative that we live within the appropriation. Congress is not in session and no further appropriations are available. Our great problem is to so administer the available fund that every man in the service and every office in the service shall be treated with equal consideration.

Shows Prosperity, Claim. "This is such an emergency as may occur in any great business enterprise and it is temporary. On July 1 the appropriation for next year becomes available and we will then be able to extend and perfect the service in many important ways, and to discontinue this extraordinary campaign of economy."

"It should be understood that this effort which must be made between now and June 30 is not a part of any policy to save money at the expense of the service or the men. It is simply and solely an emergency in which we are caught by the unexpected growth of the business which, by the way, should be a cause for rejoicing as it is an unmistakable sign of national prosperity."

NEBRASKA U MEN TO ATTEND MEET IN L. A.

At least two residents of Santa Ana who are alumni of the University of Nebraska will attend the banquet to be given at the City club, Los Angeles, tomorrow evening for the Nebraska track team which is on its way to Berkeley to meet the University of California April 7. These two are Nat H. Neff, an engineer of the county road department, a member of the class of 1912, and O. H. Egge, proprietor of the O. H. Egge company, auto painting, top and body building.

TUSTIN SCHOOL BONDS BOUGHT BY L. A. FIRM

Bonds of the $48,000 Tustin school issue has been signed by county supervisors, preliminary to delivery to representatives of the Blyth-Witter Co., Los Angeles, to which the contract was awarded. The certificates in the $55,000 La Habra school bond issue have also been signed, and will be delivered to the Security Trust and Savings company, Los Angeles, next Monday.

County Track Teams Set For Big Classic

4B CLASS WINS SECTION MEET AT J. H. S.

1000 Pupils Compete In 19 Events In Classic At Lincoln Field

The 5B grade scored an even fifty points in the annual inter-sectional track and field meet staged by the Junior high and the Washington schools at Lincoln field yesterday afternoon, and annexed first place in the affair which drew into competition approximately 1000 pupils of the two schools.

Twenty-nine sections competed for points in nineteen events. The 4A grade took second with 38 points; 6G was third with 38, 5C fourth with 31, 6B fifth with 30, 2A sixth with 26, 6D seventh with 22 and 6C eighth with 20. The other classes scored only a scattering total.

Two events, the senior and intermediate pole vault, were to be finished this afternoon.

The results by classes:

Girls' junior broad jump—2A first, 4A second, 3A third. Boys' senior dash—6d first, 5c second, 6b third. Boys' junior high jump—3c first, 5b second, 2d third. Boys' intermediate broad jump—6c first, 6b second, 4a third. Girls' senior broad jump—5b first, 1d second, 6a third. Girls' junior baseball throw—1a first, 2c second, 3a third. Girls' intermediate relay—6b first, 5b second, 6a third. Boys' senior relay—6c first, 6b second, 6b third. Boys' intermediate dash—4g first, 5c second, 5c third. Girls' intermediate dash—2a first, 1c second, 2d third. Boys' intermediate shot put—1b first, 1a second, 5a third. Girls' senior relay—5b first, 4g second, 1a third. Girls' junior relay—2a first, 4a second, 1a third. Boys' junior relay—1b first, 2f second, 5c third, 6g third. Boys' junior pole vault—3c and 2f tied for first, 4b third. Boys' intermediate relay—6c first, 6b second, 5b third. Boys' senior broad jump—6b first, 6c second, 5c third.

Coach L. W. Archer, who was in charge of the meet, held the affair as a preliminary to the Junior high school county track meet to be held at Huntington Beach, April 21. Coach Archer plans to take 50 or 50 entrants to the county classic.

FULLERTON GIRLS TRIM LOCAL TEAM

After holding the strong Fullerton girls' team on even terms for five innings here yesterday afternoon, the Santa Ana high school girls' indoor baseball squad blew up higher than the well known kite and received a 19 to 5 drubbing from the North County aggregation.

The lineup:

ANAHEIM GIRLS PLAY FOR TITLE TONIGHT

ANAHEIM, March 30.—With the Southern California championship at stake, the Anaheim and Coronado high school girls' basketball teams will clash here tonight. Neither team has suffered defeat to date.

Miss Irene Jacques, local coach, believes that her team, which annexed the title last season, will be able to defeat the visitors again this season.

COMMISSION AFTER KILBANE, DUNDEE GO

Champion Must Fight Way Back to Good Graces Of Bill Muldoon

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 30.—Johnny Wilson and Johnny Kilbane, these two champions of barren islands, can be paroled back to their former holdings if they will agree to be nice champions and fight, according to the latest edict of William Muldoon, chairman of the New York boxing commission.

All that Kilbane has to do to bring the official smile of the commission on him is to fight Johnny Dundee, and Wilson can win his way back into grace by fighting Harry Glim.

Both banished champions probably will prefer to stay banished under those conditions.

Kilbane to Fight.

Kilbane is signed to fight the European champion, Eugene Criqui, at the Polo Grounds on June 2. The Cleveland Irishman is going to get a fat purse and he no doubt would not care to take any chances with the tough Dundee, who once held him to a 20 round draw when both were in their prime.

Tom O'Rourke, who arranged the Kilbane-Criqui match, is going ahead with his arrangements and he insists that he has a trump hand that will force the commission to let the bout go on.

The commission is equally insistent that it cannot be held up to the present time Muldoon has not had an opportunity to act.

Wilson in Predicament.

Wilson is in a peculiar predicament. He doesn't want to fight Greb and from the attitude that Greb took in refusing to make the weight for Dave Rosenberg, the former light heavyweight champion, is no longer desirous of working in the middleweight class.

Another curious move of the commission's champion was the approval of Jack McAuliffe, the Detroit heavyweight, as the next opponent for Luis Firpo, the South American Giant.

Tom Gibbons has a fight arranged with McAuliffe for March 19 in Madison Square Garden, and Muldoon stepped in and said the bout could not be held until McAuliffe had shown something here to prove that he was what his manager claimed him to be.

Several who seem now to think that a Firpo-McAuliffe bout is all right yelled to the skies that larceny or something of the kind was about to be prepared when Gibbons was getting ready for the fight.

IRVINE, AUTO TEAM WILL CLASH SUNDAY

Hoping to get revenge for the drubbing received at the hands of the fast Studebaker Autos team of Los Angeles two weeks ago, the Irvine Studebaker club, champions of the Orange County Harbor league, will clash with the motormen at Irvine again next Sunday, according to an announcement today by Manager Arthur Trickey.

A sixty-mile an hour Santa Ana wind was blowing the day the teams mingled before and the bean town players went to pieces like a lot of chaff. Believing that on a peaceful day they could turn the tables, the Irvine men requested Trickey to schedule a return fray with the Studebakers.

Fred "Dutch" Hinrichs, crack flogger for the Harbor league (titleholders, will be on the hill Sunday, Trickey said. Ralph Mitchell will catch his slants.

Pomona, Oxy Relay Teams To Meet In Match Race Here

The crack Occidental and Pomona College relay teams will hook up in a special race on the Santa Ana high school oval April 28, when the Southern California Interscholastic Track and Field meet will be held here. It was learned today.

The two baton passing crews have met on three occasions this season and the Tigers have won every race, all, however, by small margins.

Johnny Spangler, former Santa Ana high school track star, will be with the Oxy quartette. The other Tiger runners probably will be Powers, Ellsworth and Argue. The Sagehen lineup will probably consist of Rembo, Maxwell, Handley and Gardner.

SANTA ANA, ORANGE BASEBALL TEAMS IN LEAGUE TILT HERE

Determined to shake the jinx which has hovered over its camp for the last two weeks the Santa Ana high school baseball team this afternoon went into action on the Poly field in a regular Orange league game against the strong Orange high school nine.

Having recovered from their flu attacks, Ted Coffman, crack catcher, Leland Finley, third baseman, and Bill Luck, shortstop, were expected to be in the Poly lineup. Earl Jabs, who suffered an injury to his ankle in practice the other day, also was scheduled to join the team at the first cushion.

Coach Orion Neff was expected to start "Barney" Le Bard on the slab against the Orange team.

ORANGE INDOOR TEAM TRIMS TUSTIN GIRLS

TUSTIN, March 30.—The Tustin high school girls' indoor baseball team yesterday afternoon again suffered defeat at the hands of the Orange high school girls' team. The score was 12 to 11, a home run in the last frame winning the enshrinement for the Orange team. Miss Thelma Artz pitched for the locals. It was her first appearance on the mound this year and considering that she has been ill her work was excellent. Miss Frick twirled for the winners.

MEXICO, IMAN TO HEAD SEVEN-BOUT BILL AT DELHI ARENA NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

DELHI CARD

Main Event—Kid Mexico, Huntington Beach vs. Jack Iman, Santa Ana, 158 pounds. Semi-Windup—Johnny Vasquez, Santa Ana, vs. Jack Moore, Los Angeles, 190 pounds.

Preliminaries — Battling Doty, Wintersburg, vs. Harry Le Roy, Los Angeles, 138 pounds. Toby Montoya, Placentia, vs. Young Monroe, Los Angeles, 118 pounds.

Danny Herrera, El Modena, vs. Kid Sharkey, Los Angeles, 122 pounds. Young Benson, El Modena, vs. Kid Cooper, Los Angeles, 128 pounds. Eddie Doolis, Santa Ana, vs. Young Riley, Los Angeles, 135 pounds.

A card of seven bouts, with those two old enemies of the ring, Kid Mexico and Jack Iman, billed for the main event, will be furnished customers at Boyd Ellis' Delhi boxing show next Wednesday night.

Definite arrangements for the Mex-Iman go were completed here today when the former, now a full-fledged working man, notified Ellis that nothing would be sweeter than for him to thrash Jack again, and Iman informed the local promoter that all he wanted was a chance to prove he could polish off the beach boy.

The Mexico-Iman fights have gone down in Delhi ring history as the most sensational bouts staged in these parts. The first brawl between the pair gave Jack his reputation, justly deserved. The last two, in which Mex nearly knocked Iman for a loop, took some of the local boy's distinction away from him.

Will Resume Feud Iman and his followers always maintained that Jack never should have gone on with the Huntington Beach slugger those last two times, because that he was in poor condition. When the two battlers resume their ancient feud both will be in good physical condition.

Iman has been training faithfully for the past two weeks. Mex hasn't fought for three months or more, but has kept in good shape. Johnny Vasquez, local boy, will get his first real test here as to his ring ability when he clashes with Jack Moore in the semi-windup. Moore is the great rival of Jack Martin's, and gave that well-known walloper three terrific battles in the Vernon ring. He is a good boxer and a deadly hitter. If Vasquez can stand up under his punches one can't doubt his class.

Battling Doty, the sensational Wintersburg boy, gets elevated to the feature preliminary mill next week. He will tangle with Harry LeRoy, sparring partner of Bert Collina, the best middleweight in the west.

Montoya, Monroe Sign

Toby Montoya and Young Joe Monroe, the game little Los Angeles southpaw slammer, will clash in the next affair. Toby and Monroe fought one draw at Delhi and the fans voted it a great mauling match for the small fellows. Montoya has improved wonderfully and he looks due to stop Tommy McFarland's portside.

Danny Herrera, a clever boy from El Modena, will make his Delhi debut with Kid Sharkey, a rough one from the oil fields. Sharkey won a main event Wednesday night at Taft with one punch.

Young Benson, another El Modena scrapper, and Kid Cooper, who appeared in the curtain raiser here two weeks ago, meet in the second tilt of the evening. Benson has won three of his four bouts at Anaheim via K. O. route.

Eddie Doolis, Santa Ana boy, regarded by his followers as a coming champion, will step with Young Riley in the eye-opener.

BEACH SQUAD FAVORED TO COP MEET

Santa Ana Men In Best Of Condition, Have Chance To Annex Title

Only a few short hours intervened tonight between the time that the crack athletes, numbering about 100, from seven high schools in this section, clash on Fullerton field tomorrow afternoon in the traditional Orange County Track and Field meet.

Word from the various schools was that all of the entrants are in the best of condition and primed to make a desperate fight to uphold the honors of their respective schools.

Handicapped by injuries, lack of candidates, time and lack of a dozen other maladies throughout the season but ready to surpass their best efforts of the past, Coach Ray Adkinson's Santa Ana high school team was conceded an "outside, a fighting chance" to garner the honors at the classic.

Supplied with veteran stars of brilliance who could place in any high school track meet in the United States, Coach Ray Walker's Huntington Beach team, county, Southern California and state champions last year, is picked by most of the critics to repeat its success of last season.

The Fullerton squad, strong in some events, weaker in others, is bound to be a dangerous competitor to the Santa Ana and Huntington Beach teams.

Orange, Anaheim, Tustin and San Juan Capistrano all have several good men but the teams as a whole are not rated as having a chance for victory.

It is probable that at least two county records will fall under the strong competition tomorrow. Ross Nichols, the speedy Huntington Beach hurdler and all-around star, is expected to cut the present marks in the high and low barriers if he can obtain the great form he showed last week at the Tri-County classic.

In virtually every track event great races are expected. With three such sprinters as Milt Nash of Huntington Beach, Arnold Strosheim of Poly and Cliff Allee of Fullerton enrolled it is not unlikely that records may fall in the 100 and 220 dashes. Coach Adkinson of the locals, it is understood, will not run Strosheim in the 440 where Nash and Allee are expected to offer the greatest race of the afternoon. Strosheim will run the two shorter events and rest up for the relay where Santa Ana is believed to have a good chance to defeat the crack Fullerton quartet which crossed the line far in the van of the field at the Tri-County affair.

Lawyer in Distances

Bob Vawter of Santa Ana may have to run the 880 in close to record time to annex this event from Courtney and Healey, the Fullerton long distance stars. Vawter defeated both these runners at Huntington Beach last Saturday but he was hard pressed to the finish. The county record for the half is 1:59.45 and was set by Beebe, the great Anaheim runner, in 1913.

Vawter, Courtney and Healey will have another strong opponent in the mile in Jiminez, the gritty little Tustin runner who furnished a sensation at the Tri-county with his spurt into third place.

Nichols and Bickmore will have little opposition in the high hurdles but Otto Gardner of Santa Ana is expected to give the former a close run in the low barriers.

Santa Ana's chances in the field events lie chiefly with Henry Dungan, Earl Jabs and Anderson in the weights and Lloyd Morris in the high jump.

It is in the field events that Huntington Beach is expected to show its greatest strength as Nash, Nichols and Bickmore are great all-around performers.

obtain some sweet revenge on his persecutors. According to the scorekeepers there were a quantity of cards turned in the scores on which totalled well over 100. The said scorekeeper refused to divulge the names of the guilty.

President C. G. Twist has announced that all members will be urged to play Saturday April 6 in order to qualify in a tournament for some of the challenge cups. The qualifying round will be medal play. Sixteen players will make up a flight and there will be as many flights as there are players to fill in.

"The pairings will be made immediately after the last foursome has been completed," Twist said, "and as the first round must be finished by the following Sunday night it will be necessary for the matches to be run off one round a week with no exceptions or extensions."

The regular ball sweepstakes and side matches will be held in connection with the foursomes tomorrow.

The directors of the Santa Ana Country club, now being formed here, have extended an invitation for any persons interested to inspect the site of the new golf course at Santa Ana Heights.

BOXES OF GOLD

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Copyright, 1923, by E. Phillips Oppenheim Arrgt. NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Vendetta begins today. Michael Sayers, noted criminal, and Sir Norman Greaves, once of Scotland Yard, when Sayers' beautiful housemaid, JANET, saves him from Sir Norman by shooting dead an officer sent to arrest him. Janet becomes Sayers' wife and accomplice.

Michael plans to rob two men, Gorty and Metzger, of seven boxes of gold brought into England to establish private credit. It is arranged for two masqueraders, Mr. and Mrs. Jose de Miguel, to assist Michael. During the absence of Gorty, Madam de Miguel entices Metzger to her hotel room where Michael renders him unconscious. The boxes of gold are substituted for luggage taken from the hotel by the de Miguels, who leave for parts unknown. Greaves is called to investigate.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

Sir Norman continues: "I do," was the confident reply. "He was chased out of the States; we have granted an extradition warrant against him on the charge of manslaughter; we have watched every steamship at every port; yet I don't mind confessing to you that he is in London at the present moment and in touch with his old associates."

Notwithstanding Rimmington's conviction, I started on no mad quest of my enemy. Indeed, I had no inspiration as to where to begin my search. Janet had left Albona Court and had not replied to the various notes which I had written her. I had a vague idea that there was danger in prosecuting inquiries for her too closely. I had an idea, too, which was by no means vague, that I was being watched. There was always a loiterer of some sort or another in the street when I entered or left my rooms. I felt surreptitious eyes upon me often. When I lunched or dined or visited the theater. Once I walked home late through Lansdowne Passage, and heard the patter of rubber-soled feet behind me. I swung around, and my pursuer, whoever he was, a burly but agile figure, took refuge in flight.

It was about three weeks after the attack upon Metzger and the disappearance of the gold, when I received a most unexpected visitor. I heard a shrill, foreign voice in the hall overriding my servant's objections, and a moment later a man entered unannounced and evidently in a state of some excitement.

"You are Sir Norman Greaves?" he said. "I am Gorty. I came to this country of cut-throats with Metzger—with him who lies in the hospital. Will you listen to me?"

I motioned to Adams to leave us, and wheeled round an easy-chair for my visitor.

"What am I to think?" he demanded fiercely. "I come from a great but poor government. With much trouble we got together the gold with which to buy materials in this country and open credit. It is you who are supposed to be more civilized than any other country. I go to Manchester to speak at a meeting. I come back, and what do I find? My comrade brutally assaulted, my country's gold stolen! Yes, and that in the heart of your civilization! What am I to think of you, then, as a people?"

"It was a most unusual crime," I told him, "but you must remember that you were taking grave risks in having a large amount of gold like that unguarded in your room. The police, however, are doing—"

"The police?" he almost shrieked. "Your police? They are imbeciles—imbeciles or rascals, I do not know which. As to having the money unguarded, how could we help it? There are many banks in London who say we owe them money. What would have happened if I had deposited my gold there? They would surely have annexed it. And as it is, do you believe that it is an ordinary thief who has robbed us? No!"

"I am afraid," I said, "that you are taking a very extreme view of things. However, under the circumstances I cannot blame you for feeling ill used. Tell me what brings you here."

"Ten years ago," he went on, suddenly calmer, "I was in the service of the police of my country. There was an anarchist plot. Three criminals escaped to London. You were at Scotland Yard, and I came to see you. You found me those criminals."

"Tell me what I can do for you?" I asked.

"Find me my gold," he demanded. "Find me the man who attacked Metzger."

Sir Norman talks: He drew his easy-chair a little closer to mine. He eyed my box of cigarettes hungrily. I placed it by his side, and handed him a match. He smoked furiously.

"Listen," he confided: "I have a piece of evidence. I will not take it to the police. I do not trust them. You shall find me my gold."

"What is your piece of evidence?" I asked.

"The little gray man," he answered. "The man whom they spoke of as visiting the South Americans in the next suite. Ah, those South Americans—I never trusted them! I saw Madam makes eyes at Metzger. What need had she of Metzger. A woman like that has lovers enough."

"About the little gray man?" I ventured.

"They speak of him in the evidence," Gorty went on eagerly. "He was at the suite that night. I saw him with Madam the South American, two days before. I know where he is to be found now."

"Why the devil haven't you told the police?" I exclaimed. "That is the one man they are looking for."

Practical Notes on the S. S. Lesson

Prepared for The Register by Cal. Ogburn

Lesson for April 1. Luke 24:13-31.

The Walk to Emmaus.

"They communed and questioned together."—v. 15. The two disciples were engaged in a very animated discussion, in earnest debate; not unduly striving or contending, but still regarding from different points of view, and each urging upon the other his own interpretation of that stupendous event of which they had just been the witnesses.

Jesus asked—v. 17—"What words are these which ye throw back and forth to each other?"

The conversation was tense, but without anger. Concerning "all the things which had happened," and that they now were considering, seemingly there was only one conclusion upon which they mutually agreed, and even this was wrong: Jesus was not the long-expected Messiah. He "was a prophet mighty in deed and in word before God and all the people," but not "the which should redeem Israel." They could reach no agreement further than this in their discussion of all that had transpired relative to the crucifixion of Jesus.

They had omitted the largest and most vital element of truth: the necessary death and resurrection of Jesus, as he had repeatedly told them. And how often it is so, in matters over which men grow obstinate, and even resentful, in their discussion of them. All too common are heated argument and bickering controversy instead of a mutual and calm seeking for the overlooked truth that would make all clear and harmonious.

Something important, pertaining to this matter under consideration, has not been ascertained, or we would not be "throwing at each other." There would be unity. Come, and let us find what it is. Once there was almost no end to the horrible things that "happened" were made to suffer. Then it was found that the inherent right of every man to religious freedom had not entered into their heresy trials at all! When this great truth was recognized, the "religious" world began to practice tolerance—and then the Golden Rule. Where there is much "throwing at each other" in the discussion of religious, political, social or other matters you may be sure that some essential truth has been overlooked or ignored.

"Jesus himself drew near, and went with them."—v. 15. Just what would be the result now if, when men are excitedly discussing the pros and cons of his resurrection, Jesus drew near? Probably this: Half-blinded by their obstinate antagonism of one another, none of them would be able to recognize him. The confirmed controversialist, even though he be espousing the cause of truth, does not—because he cannot—comprehend the inspiring lesson of the resurrection in the returning spring. It takes a saint to do that.

The butterfly, striking illustration of the renewed life beyond the grave, is to him only a worm in another form. He sees not the beauty of wing and grace of movement. And the fragrant flower of the once dormant bulb has neither fascination nor symbolism. In it he sees no picture of what the immortal shall be when it has put on a saint to do that.

Evidence of the resurrection of Jesus are less appealing to the schooled casuist than to the intuitive heart of mankind, which responds, "It must be so; else why this pleasing hope, this fond desire, this longing for immortality?"

"They stood still, looking sad."—v. 17. How much sadness there is in the world because people are laboring under misapprehensions. They do not understand. Only a part is seen, and that not in relation to the whole.

Jesus, their hope of the redemption of Israel, was dead. This the two disciples knew, and from which they reached the conclusion, fatal to their happiness, that all was lost. Very often, if we only knew more than we do, the cause of our great disappointments would be the source of our deepest joy. Many times we have found it so. Some of our supreme pleasures have come to us in the disguise of heart-breaking sorrows. And yet we have not learned the needed lessons of fortitude and submission.

After their sorrow was turned into such amazing and perfect joy, we are very ready to say that these two disciples should never again have allowed themselves to grow sad at any loss or disappointment. We have much greater reason to apply this to ourselves.

Jesus had conquered death. He had brought life and immortality to light. The intuitive belief of the human heart had been verified. "Because I live, ye shall live also," was his assurance.

"Beginning from Moses and all the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself."—v. 27. When the heart is sad—and there is many a sad heart that hides behind a smiling face—there is nothing that so surely brings relief as to hear about Jesus. Therefore the one theme for all pulpits is this Man of Galilee, the miracle of all ages.

The other side secured figures from the courthouse which they assert entirely refute the figures of the pastor and establish the fact that the school has been run extravagantly and must be rescued from chaos or a split in the union high school district will take place.

A PUZZLE A DAY

Can you follow a course from circle 1 to circle 12, following the straight lines, and touching all the circles. Each circle can be touched but once.

Yesterday's answer:

A third of twelve divide
By just one-fifth of seven;
Then you will soon decide
The answer is eleven.

A third of TWE(LVE) is LV;
The Roman number for 55. A fifth of SE(VEN) is V. The Roman numeral 5. Divide 55 by 5, and the answer is eleven!

EVENING SALUTATION

Too low they build who build beneath the stars.
—Young.

MUSIC CLUBS CONVENTION

Next week Santa Ana is to have the pleasure and the honor of entertaining the delegates to the convention of the California Federation of Music Clubs.

The assemblage of these clubs in Santa Ana is not only a pleasure and an honor, but it is, in a way, a recognition of the very high place that Santa Ana has made for itself in the musical world of the state during the past five or six years. From a city in which music had only a minor and insignificant part in the life of the community, Santa Ana has become a city in which music has taken and holds a prominent and highly valuable place. The coming of the state convention will more firmly establish music as a permanent city activity.

It is the desire of the citizens who are co-operating in arranging for the entertainment of the delegates that every visitor have an opportunity to remember Santa Ana for its hospitality. To that end an appeal is issued to residents of the city in general to use their best efforts in making the stay of all delegates pleasurable. Everyone who has an opportunity of coming into contact with the visitors should make it a personal duty to show his appreciation of the honor that the city feels in that the convention is being held here. The larger matters of entertainment are well in hand. It will be the small attentions, the small acts of courtesy, that will give the visitors the lasting impression of our spirit of hospitality.

GEORGE A. WHIDDEN

It is with keen regret that we hear of the death of any of the old-timers, any of the men or women who had a part in the early struggles of our city or county. And so it was yesterday when the word came to us and to the others of his hundreds of friends that George Whidden had passed away.

Those who were close to George Whidden are recalling his kindness, his faithfulness, his neighborliness, for he was indeed a kind, faithful and neighborly man. He was a man in whom others had trust, and no one in all the many years that George Whidden dealt with the intimate details of business and fraternal orders ever knew him to betray a trust. He was the kind of a man who makes up the backbone of a community—steady, reliable, honest, a good friend and a good citizen.

THE NEW CZARISM

According to a report issued by a department of the Russian Soviet government, up to December 1, 1922, more than 10,000 persons had been exiled from Russia and Siberia without trial.

On the same date, it is stated, there were 48,500 prisoners confined in the prisons and concentration camps, of whom 20,000 had been condemned and the remainder were awaiting trial. Of the condemned, 60 per cent were "intellectuals."

Here is information fitting in with the statements about Russia recently made by Secretaries Hughes and Hoover, and tending still further to disillusion those who have hoped against hope that the revolution would bring freedom to Russia.

These figures suggest, more than anything else, the regime of the old czars, with its cruel system of imprisonment and exile as punishment for the crime of disagreeing with the existing government. One form of czarism has given way to another form of czarism. Political intolerance has relaxed somewhat of late, but it is clear that a new birth of freedom is needed if the Russian people are to be really free.

Von Hindenburg is horrified at "the wickedness of France." Poor, sensitive Hindenburg! He's just beginning to realize what a wicked world it is.

AN ANCIENT ANCESTOR

Men's thoughts are turned backward again by the recent announcement that a human skull, turned to stone by the slow progress of ages, has been found in Texas, along with bones of long-extinct animals, in a gravel pit nearly a million years old. That human being, if human he was, may have been older than the primitive men whose skulls were found in Java and Patagonia.

What is the antiquity of King Tut to such a venerable specimen of the race? If the scientists are right, that Texas skull may be as old as the Rocky Mountains, and much older than the Great Lakes. It may have been deposited there when the Mississippi Valley was still an inland sea, as its conformation and salt deposits prove it to have been.

What vast changes has mankind witnessed on this apparently everlasting and changeless old earth? It seems literally true that life—a succession of living bodies—is the most durable thing in the material world. If the scientific reasoning is correct, our own lineal ancestors may have walked across the Atlantic Ocean with dry feet, before there was any ocean there.

YOUNG STATESMAN CONTROL

Bulgaria is in the hands of a group of young men, ridiculed by opponents as the "boys' ministry." The premier is just 42 years old, his minister of war is 29, the minister of the interior is 30, the minister of agriculture is 31. Others range from 33 up.

Bulgaria just now is not one of the world's most pressing problems. Yet the facts that its youthful statesmen represent the strongest cabinet in southeastern Europe and that their accession to office marks the beginning of the fourth year of agrarian rule are interesting. The little countries in that quarter are worth watching by Europe for instruction and example as well as for the sake of caution.

A COUNTRY DOCTOR SUBSIDY

The question of a state subsidy for rural physicians has been raised in more than one state as a means for encouraging doctors to take up country practice. A committee of doctors appointed by Gov. Smith to investigate the situation in New York state reported against a subsidy.

This committee explained that while doctors are fewer in rural districts than they were some years ago yet by reason of the automobile and better roads each doctor is able to cover a bigger field. While the work undoubtedly is difficult, still the returns per capita are bigger than they were in the old days. A thorough canvass convinced the committee that the number of physicians in any given territory is governed by the law of economics and that it would be unwise to disturb the balance by artificial measures.

This may settle the matter satisfactorily for New York state, where rural populations are heavy and there is a remarkable extensive system of improved state highways. It might not be considered so conclusive in the many rural districts of the country where opposite conditions exist, particularly as regards roads. But even in such cases the state subsidy may not be the best solution. Health stations under state pay may be found advisable in some sections.

This Is An Emergency

Fresno Republican.

Instant action should be taken by our representatives at Sacramento to get emergency legislation through to create our county traffic squad.

To leave the highways of the state without regulation, would amount to criminal carelessness on the part of our government.

We would not think of running rail trains over railroads, without skilled regulation. This even though they run on fixed tracks, upon or across which no one goes without due notice of his peril.

But a very large share of our traffic and our travel is now done on the open highways, upon which there goes, under the direction of unskilled hands, a million automobiles in the state of California.

And each one of these motor cars is a weapon of death, in the hands of the unskilled or the careless. Of course the automobile drivers of the state will not all at once go wild, merely because the traffic officers have been removed.

But the presence of these traffic officers is a part of the restraint—virtually the only restraint—that we have upon the handling of this ever menacing traffic.

We should have stiffer requirements for the driving of cars. We should have more definite punishments inflicted on the careless or the contemptuous who imperil the public.

Instead of that, we are now faced with a removal of what little restraint there is.

The proposal that we have a large bunch of amateur "speed cops" is well meant, but not of much service.

The district attorney points out that merely "taking the number" is of little value. The complainant must be able to identify the driver, in order to swear out a complaint.

Test this on yourself. Take the number of traffic offenses that you see, especially when you are not consciously looking for them. How many instances do you have a chance to observe the number, and record it so accurately that you can, hours later, swear that you have it right? And in how many instances, can you later, swear to the identity of the person at the wheel?

Criminal prosecution is only a small part of the business of preventing disaster on the public highways.

We must have regulation. Let's provide for this emergency action, at Sacramento.

At once!

The Missing Island

Visalia Delta.

Easter Island, 2300 miles west of Chile, in the Southern Pacific, is reported missing. It is famous for the strange status discovered in it a century ago—huge stone figures, standing upright in the earth, of an unknown type of men.

There has been much speculation about those statues. Who had carved them, and for what purpose? Are they hundreds of years old, or tens of thousands? Nobody seems to know. Some have fancied that they are relics of ancient Lemuria, the legendary continent supposed to have sunk from sight in the Pacific Ocean as Atlantis did in the Atlantic. If the island is really gone, it is "unfortunate." Such remarkable vestiges of prehistoric humanity should have been preserved.

There is hope, however, that Easter Island is still where it ought to be. The news dispatch from Tahiti, telling how a French steamer failed to find it after the most painstaking quest, adds this cheerful remark: "It is pointed out by marine authorities that observations of French merchant skippers are not always correct."

The Highest Title

Stockton Independent.

Secretary Hoover addresses a communication to "His Excellency, the President," and sticklers for etiquette hasten to announce that this is not the correct title. The chief executive is simply "The President."

The question was settled more than a century ago. The first Congress that assembled after the adoption of the Constitution considered the merits of "His Excellency" and discarded it, discarding also the somewhat title of "President of the United States and Protector of their Liberties." While the problem was still debated, Congress solved it in a practical way by sending a communication to George Washington addressed simply to "The President." That is what our First Citizen has remained, and is likely to remain.

It is a fine, appropriate title, fitting the office and fitting the country. Americans are not much given to titles, except in secret societies, and see something ridiculous in saying "Your Majesty" to a king who may not be majestic at all, or "Your Lordship" to a man who is not lordly, or "Your Grace" to a person who may not be gracious. Even where the traditional titles are not incongruous, they seem stilted. "Excellency" or "Honorable" is applied sometimes to governors or other public functionaries in this country, but has no popular appeal. Most Americans prefer plain "Mister," letting the rest of the name speak for itself.

The presidency of the United States, the highest office in the world, needs to borrow nothing from Old World floundery. "The President" is enough, as "Caesar" was enough in old Rome.

Building for the Future

Stockton Independent.

The new state building in the Civic Center of San Francisco is ready for partial occupancy. One floor is ready to accommodate the Supreme and Appellate courts. And already the cry of inadequate space is heard. It is the usual thing in California. Public buildings are outgrown before they are finished. It is, to be sure, a boost for this state's growth. Public buildings in older states and older countries are permanent monuments. In California we build them to scrap. Here in Stockton we have a scrapping job with the courthouse. And the new Presbyterian church built with a look toward the future, was taxed for Sunday school space by the regular classes the first day of occupancy. Every school building's history has been the same.

Some day building committees and architects will figure out by mathematical or geometrical progression, or whatever it is, how to build to take care of California's growth—and even then we suspect the structure will prove inadequate when completed.

Editorial Shorts

President Harding is being urged to "take the postoffice department out of politics." Presumably the Democrats are behind the movement. They always are when out of power. There is no such good little civil service worker as the one in the party out of power—and that goes for both sides of the fence.—Redlands Facts.

SEVENTH ARTICLE.

(This is the seventh of 14 articles on the City-Manager plan, by H. S. Gilbertson of the National Municipal League.)

The remarkable progress of Dayton under the city-manager plan of municipal government has been told in fuller detail than space will allow for the rest of the 200 city-manager towns, but nearly all of them have similar stories to tell.

Nearly all, but there are a few where the change has brought progress or efficiency immediately, cities that have elected unprogressive councils which put in local politicians as managers and have sat down and stagnated.

Yet even these issues have cleared, obstructive influences have been identified and successive elections brought relief.

One such council in Ohio played politics two terms, but the town saw exactly what was going on and at the third election a discriminating landslide put three of the councilmen out of politics and installed a harmonious, live council and a new high-grade manager.

There is no magic in this plan of government that will prevent the people from electing the wrong men. The plans compel them to make their mistakes in broad daylight, and the chance to go astray under those conditions is the irreducible hazard of democracy.

Almost always they have chosen better men than have hitherto been successful in local politics. Of course, what one town is proud of, another may consider old-fashioned, but every town reports improvement.

Here are some typical reports of financial progress.

San Jose, Cal. (population 40,000) ran in 1919 with less expenditure than the old government in 1916 despite advanced costs. Manitowish, Mich. (population 10,000) had under the old government voted a bond issue of $80,000 for a new trunk sewer. The new government spent $1200 cleaning tons of debris from the old sewer, then found adequate.

Sandusky, O. (population 23,000) reduced its debt $230,000, and in 1919 under the new plan its operating expenses, despite ascending wages and costs, were less than under the old plan in 1914.

Ashtabula, O., is still living within its pre-war tax rate. Sault Ste Marie, Mich. (population 12,000) saved $67,000 in two years.

Alhambra, Cal. (population 10,000) bought the water system and ran it for $14,000 a year less than the private corporation did. In Waltham, Mass., the new government increased the city tax rate only 8 per cent while labor increased 54 per cent; the water and engineering departments were combined, thus saving salaries and increasing efficiency; by stopping leakage and waste, an expenditure of $300,000 for a new water supply was avoided.

Griffin, Ga. (population 3240) saved $43,000 the first year by improving every department, and did more street work in one year than in any previous five years.

Wichita, Kas. (population 72,000) built a sewer by direct labor at a cost of $214,000. The lowest contractor's bid was $316,000.

Webster City, Ia. (population 6000) has saved $38,000 a year since the adoption of the plan.

Among the most significant features of business administration in most of these cities is the adoption of a modern budget. The needs of the city are carefully planned a year ahead in great detail and there is a powerful incentive to live within the income.

Economy is made possible, too, for the reason that a lot of political creditors are eliminated and political "fences" do not have to be built out of the city treasury.

Worth While Verse

SEA MADNESS

You who have loved the way of streets and hills
And build, like jewels, houses on their brow,
Will hunger still for country daffodils
As I am sick for ships and harbors now.
You who have loved the robins on the lawn,
And, like a lover, flowers in the grass,
Have never watched a vessel in the dawn,
Or marked the way of schooners when they pass.

So am I bound forever to your walls,
I beat my hands against your wooden door,
Startled at night by every wind that calls,
Crying for sight of water on a shore.
Some day a wind will break the heart of me,
And I will leave you all and take to sea.

Time to Smile

TOO COOL.

"Tell me," said the lady to the old soldier, "were you cool in battle?"
"Cool?" said the truthful veteran, "why, I fairly shivered."

Higher Mathematics

By W. L. Phelps in Scribner's.

It seems strange to me that among the "reforms" which have been suggested in modern education during the last forty years, no one has ventured to attack the study of mathematics.

It is always assumed by the ignorant, that Latin and Greek are useless studies, and that mathematics is valuable and practical. The truth is, that for every occupation except one for which higher mathematics is a prerequisite, like civil engineering, Greek and Latin are more useful. For the preacher, the lawyer, the doctor, the journalist, and for nearly all business men, the classics are more important than mathematics.

Training in these ancient languages, with the accompanying culture and history with the aid given to the meaning of English words and to the mastery of English style and expression—where does the binomial theorem stand in comparison?

I believe in the equal dignity of all subjects of learning. But it seems absurd for a university to require neither Latin nor Greek for a bachelor of arts degree, and yet insist on the higher mathematics. I would at least allow every student a free choice as between classics and mathematics. And if I were a pupil, I should not hesitate a moment.

I have no doubt that for those who have a natural aptitude for the study, mathematics are valuable as intellectual discipline and training, whether one will use them definitely or not. They are particularly valuable for novelists and playwrights. But for those who have no gift and no inclination, mathematics are often worse than useless—they are a positive injury.

Because I was forced to do so, I studied mathematics faithfully and conscientiously from the age of 3 to the age of 21; that is, from the time I first went to school until the end of my junior year in college. After long division, it is my conviction that nearly every hour spent on the subject was thrown away; it was worse than thrown away; the time could have been better employed in manual labor, in outdoor exercises, or in sleep.

Mathematics was a constant discouragement and heartbreak; the harder I worked, the less result I obtained. How bitterly I regret those hours and days and weeks and months and years, which might have been so much more profitably employed on studies that would have stimulated my mind instead of stupefying it!—William Lyon Phelps in Scribner's Magazine.

The Hermit

By Berton Braley

The hermit sat in his lonesome cave,
Behaving as hermits shouldn't behave,
For he spoke up loud and he yelled it clear.
"Oh, gosh-a-mighty, it's lonesome here!"

"I had a trouble, I had a woe,
My heart was broke and my spirits low,
And I felt so doggone bad inside
That I went and I came out here to hide."

"But gosh-a-mighty, I'm tellin' you, (It was empty air he was speaking to)
"Although I'd fled from the busy throng,
I found my trouble had come along!"

"It sat at the table, it shared my bed,
It filled my heart and it filled my head!
I'll tell the universe life is bum
When trouble is all that you've got for chum."

"An' 'way out here in this lonesome spot
I've come to see that a guy has got To face his trouble—for come what may,
It's wholly useless to run away."

"I'm going back to the place I came,
To face my trouble—for come what may,

WANTS TRUCK MEN TO PAY.

Editor Register:—As a resident of Santa Ana for twenty years, and a taxpayer, the undersigned will cheerfully vote for the fire and water bonds. But for the West Fifth street improvement, let the trucking companies, and for most part Japanese drivers and owners, pay for the fine pavement they have destroyed.

Yours truly,

CAPITOL JOKES

BY R. WALTON MOORE

U. S. Representative From Virginia, Fifth District.

ET out the English as the only people who don't get American jokes!

Once on a time, as most people will recall, William J. Bryan ran for president, and his running mate was Henry Gasaway Davis.

At a dinner one of the guests remarked that if Bryan were elected the presidency and vice presidency would be all in the family, since Bryan was related to Davis through the latter's middle name.

"How interesting!" said a lady who was distantly related to Mr. Bryan: "I never knew before that there was any relation."

On a subsequent occasion the same guest told the story with evident relish to Mr. Davis himself.

Mr. Davis looked puzzled, then remarked: "Well, I've never looked up my family tree, but that's the first time I've heard I was related to Bryan."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

No. 1033—THE EASTER BUNNY

The very next person the Twins met in Sugar-Plum Land was the Easter Bunny.

There he was in a fine red coat, hopping along with a large basket on each arm.

"Goodness, I've lost my calendar," he was saying over and over to himself. "I can't remember where I put it."

Then catching sight of the Twins he hopped up alongside and said politely, "Excuse me for not tipping my hat, but my hands are otherwise engaged. I wish to ask if you happen to know where I can find a calendar. I can't remember whether I put mine in the refrigerator, down the cellar hole or on the roof. And now I can't tell when Easter comes."

"We don't have a calendar with us," Nancy told him, "but we can ask Mr. Peenobut, the Moon-Man, if you like. He fixes dates for everything."

"Oh, thank you," remarked the Easter Bunny hastily. "Don't go to so much trouble. No doubt I'll find it. But one has to be careful. If, by chance, I left the Easter baskets under the parlor curtains on April Fools' Day instead of Easter, it would be shocking. The kiddies would think I was fooling them. It would be just as bad for Santa Claus to fill their stockings on the Fourth of July."
